GERMANY IS READY TO TREAT DIRECT ON RUHR QUESTION

Discontinuance of Passive Resistance in Occupied Zones Ordered by Berlin Government, Central News Dispatch Indicates; Direct Negotiations Believed to Be Imminent

London, Sept. 10.—The populations in the occupied areas of Germany have been ordered to discontinue their passive resistance to the French and Belgian authorities, according to the Central News correspondent in Berlin.

"I learn," the correspondent telegraphs, "that the German capitalists have decided to send a representative to Paris with the object of ascertaining to what extent France is prepared to make concessions to Germany."

"Direct negotiations between the two Governments are believed in political circles here (in Berlin) to be imminent."

GREECE ACCEPTS ALL CONDITIONS

Athens, Sept. 10.—Greece accepts the conditions laid down by the Inter-Allied Council of Ambassadors for settlement of the Greco-Italian dispute, and has so informed the Council in a note dispatched to Paris. Foreign Minister Alexandris said that the Greek communication left to the Ambassadors the determination of such details as the dates for the military salute and the funeral services for the victims of Janina massacre. He asserts the Council's decision represents a victory for Greek diplomacy.

Paris, Sept. 10.—A meeting of the Inter-Allied Council of Ambassadors was called for 4 o'clock this afternoon for consideration of the Greek reply to the terms laid down by the Council for settlement of the Greco-Italian dispute. Final arrangements will be made also for the work of the investigating Commission.

LABOR CONGRESS NOW IN SESSION

Attorney-General Manson Welcomes Delegates to Vancouver Conference

Vancouver, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press)—The thirty-ninth annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, which has brought together approximately 300 delegates representing every province in Canada, was formally opened this morning.

Following cordial addresses of welcome delivered by Attorney-General Manson and Mayor C. E. Tisdall, the work of presenting credentials and appointing committees was proceeded with. During the day reports from the various officers will be submitted and it is expected that by Tuesday the main business of the Congress will be in full swing.

President Tom Moore, secretary P. M. Draper and other officials of the Congress arrived on Saturday and immediately plunged into the task of preparing for the convention.

Many Resolutions—More than seventy-five resolutions were this morning being drafted by the resolutions committee, headed by James Marsh, of Niagara Falls, Ont. These cover a wide range of subjects: immigration, provincial compensation, education and other matters. One of the main features of the conference will be the report of the executive on the work of the past year.

A warm discussion on the issues of the recent miners' strike in Cape Breton is in prospect, accompanied by some of the delegates. J. S. McLachlan, who led the strikers, is in attendance, as is also Sidney Barrett, of Glace Bay, provisional president of the newly-organized district formed to replace the McLachlan faction.

Frank Hodges, M.P., representing the Trades Union Congress of Great Britain; Walter R. Reddick, of the American Federation of Labor, have arrived, and J. Brown, representing the International Federation, Amsterdam, will reach here during the week. They will deliver addresses during the convention.

SPECULATING WITH HOME BANK DEPOSITS

Toronto, Sept. 10.—Depositors of the Home Bank, which suspended payment three weeks ago, are being offered 60c to 70c on the dollar by speculators, according to The Toronto Globe.

The Globe says: "The Toronto parties who are behind the speculation are offering 60c on the dollar, and The Globe was informed that certain interests in Montreal will agree to pay 70c on the dollar. Quite a business, it is said, is being done in Montreal on the basis of Home Bank deposits."

TOURIST REUNION

Seattle, Sept. 10.—The Canadian Tourists' Society, with a membership of 8,000, may select Seattle for its annual summer reunion next year, John Hooper, president, announced today. He is in Seattle with his family, en route to Alaska.

REPLIES TO CHARGE OF OPPOSITION ON CANADIAN POLICY

HON. ERNEST LAPOINTE

CANADIANS MUST DECIDE POLICIES

Hon Ernest Lapointe Replies to Charge by Opposition Leader

L'Islet, Que., Sept. 10 (Canadian Press)—Canadian policies must be decided in Canada and by Canadians and the Parliament of Canada must be the supreme authority in the matter.

Such was the definite statement made by Hon. Ernest Lapointe here yesterday when replying to a charge which, he said, had been made by Mr. Meighen a short time ago, when he claimed the representatives of Canada who had gone to London to assist at the Imperial Conference had no plans and policies.

"The leader of the Opposition," said Mr. Lapointe, "would like us to express our willingness to accept every proposal which might be made to us. The people of Canada, through their representatives in the House of Commons in Ottawa, will have the last word to say as to what proposals or suggestions should be acted upon. Under existing circumstances, for example, I do not see that we should subscribe to any new scheme involving military or naval expenditure, and no doubt such will be the attitude of our representatives at the Conference and the final opinion of the Canadian Parliament."

PRINCE ENJOYING PASSAGE ACROSS

Heir to British Throne Mixes With Travelers on Liner

Special to The Times
On Board the Empress of France at Sea, September 9.—The Prince of Wales may not be officially on board the Empress of France, but there is a fair-haired, smiling-faced young passenger on the list as Lord Renfrew who by his modest courtesy and affable ways has already won the esteem of all. Lord Renfrew is accompanied by Brigadier-General F. Trotter, Sir Godfrey Thomas, Major E. D. Metcalfe, and Scotland Yard men. The party occupies state-rooms 22, 24 and 26 en suite and Lord Renfrew has quietly and unobtrusively fallen into the every day life of the ship as would any English gentleman. He breakfasted in his own suite, but lunches and suppers in the regular saloon. He walks the common promenade deck and dances in the lounge as do other passengers. The only exception and necessary one is that a table and seats are reserved in an alcove of the lounge for his party. While Lord Renfrew is naturally the cynosure of many eyes the passengers as a whole have respect for his obvious though unexpressed wish that he should not be considered as the Prince of Wales or a member of the Royal family. The first evening out from Southampton Lord Renfrew appeared for a short while in the lounge. On Thursday night he first took part in the nightly dance in the lounge and his appearance naturally aroused girlish ambitions for a dance with the royal passenger. His only dancing partner, however, on this occasion was Mrs. Captain Holt, of Montreal. On Friday evening he again attended the dance, and this time, chose a charming Toronto girl, Miss Margaret Parker, as his partner. A fancy dress ball was held on Saturday.

Will Play the Game
Questioned in regard to the Grand Trunk affair, Mr. Lapointe said: "You can depend, however, that Canada will, as she has always done, play the game, and carry out her obligations. Indeed, she may go further and act more generously than she is called upon to do if the returns of the National Railways which include the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific systems continue to improve as they are doing."

Further Consideration
Ottawa, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press)—Although no official announcement has been made, it is regarded here as probable that the claims of Grand Trunk Railway stockholders will receive further consideration and be the subject of discussion when Premier King and Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, arrive in England.

Mr. Graham Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canada, is now overseas, and, it is understood, participate in any conference which may take place. Mr. Graham, who is attending the meetings of the League of Nations, will join Mr. King in London at the close of the meeting.

BACHELOR'S PARADISE

London, Sept. 10.—(Associated Press)—The Channel Islands are getting better and better every day from the point of view of the earthly bachelor. Here there is no income tax, no corporation tax, only a nominal state tax, no early closing laws, no prohibition, and now the legislature has refused to pass a bill which would allow women over the age of thirty to sit as members of the House of Deputies.

FREE STATE NOW MEMBER OF LEAGUE

Geneva, Sept. 10.—The Irish Free State was unanimously elected to membership in the League of Nations by the Assembly today.

CRACKSMEN BUNGLED

Seattle, Sept. 10.—The residential district, adjoining the business section of Toit, twenty miles east of Seattle, was rocked by an explosion early yesterday morning when cracksmen attempted to wreck and loot a large safe containing more than $1,000 in currency and negotiable paper valued at several thousand dollars, of the Meyer Mercantile Company.

Sailors Are Lost When Destroyers Wrecked on Coast

Theory Expressed by High American Naval Officials That Marine Disturbance May Have Brought Disaster to Destroyer Division Off California

Washington, D.C., Sept. 10.—The theory was expressed today by high naval officials that a tidal wave or other seismic disturbances reacting from the Japanese earthquake caused the disaster to the destroyer division off the California coast yesterday.

Survivors Are Landed
San Diego, Sept. 10.—Survivors of the seven American destroyers which piled up on the rocks at Point Honda last Saturday night arrived in San Diego on a special train at 3 o'clock this morning. The officers and sailors were met by detachments from the destroyer base, to where they were taken after being provided with packages of cigarettes, hot coffee and light refreshments.

Seamen Missing
Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 10.—Efforts were being made today to count the cost and perhaps fix the blame for the toll taken by the sea near Santa Barbara Saturday when seven destroyers of the battle-fleet went ashore near Arguello Light, seventy-five miles north of this city and the Pacific Mail liner Cuba was wrecked on a reef off San Miguel Island, thirty-five miles off this port. As a result of the naval disaster, which occurred at 9:05 o'clock Saturday night in a dense fog, twenty-three seamen were missing and were believed to have lost their lives, fifteen others were seriously injured they were brought to a hospital here and 100 more were cut and bruised while the destroyers—Chauncey, Woodbury, Fuller, S. P. Lee, Nicholas, Young and Delphy—were reported total losses.

Wreck of Cuba
In the wreck of the Cuba, which occurred Saturday, also in a fog, no lives were definitely known to have been lost, although mystery still surrounded the fate of Captain C. J. Holland, the purser, the steward and eight seamen, who remained aboard the stricken craft as a guard after others of the crew, and all of the passengers had been taken aboard the destroyer Reno.

No word had been received here early today concerning the captain and his comrades, but tug and other vessels which encircled the island yesterday declared they saw no sign of the liner, unless small wreckage which dotted the coast had once been part of her.

The Reno landed at Los Angeles those of her crew and all of her passengers who sought safety on the destroyer, which remained aboard the stricken craft as a guard after others of the crew, and all of the passengers had been taken aboard the destroyer Reno.

BEATTY'S PARTY AT WINNIPEG

C.P.R. President Makes Announcement of Branch Line Extensions

Need of National Economy is Emphasized

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—President Beatty and his party of directors and officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway arrived here at 9 o'clock last night after a daylight trip from Fort William, and will remain here until Tuesday morning.

In the course of an interview, President Beatty spoke with extreme optimism about the future of Canada. Asked if he had any special announcements to make as to contemplated work in the West, Mr. Beatty stated that it was too soon to forecast the new work which would be gone on with next year, the appropriations for the year naturally depending a good deal on the conditions which follow the harvesting of the present crop.

Branch Lines
He pointed out that the moderate branch-line programme commenced in the Spring would be continued if conditions warranted it.

He added, however, that some misapprehension seemed to have been created by the erroneous announcement from unimformed sources that the plans of the company for branch line construction were extended by the Senate's rejection of the Canadian National Branch Lines Bill at (Continued on page 2.)

PREMIER URGES OTTAWA TO LOOK AFTER REFUGEES

Asks Immigration Authorities to Care For Fleeing Japanese Here

The plight of Japanese earthquake refugees who will reach here on the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson this week was brought to the attention of the Federal Government today by Premier Oliver. The Premier's action in wiring to the Federal Government followed the receipt of a cable at the office of the Lieutenant-Governor here from the British Consul at Kobe urging that the refugees be taken care of on their arrival.

In a telegram to Premier Mackenzie King today, Mr. Oliver pointed out that the Provincial Government has no facilities for handling refugees. He suggested that the Dominion immigration authorities here could look after them. Mr. King wired back at noon today that he had referred the whole question to the Minister of Immigration, who would advise Mr. Oliver of steps to be taken to handle the situation.

That Government agents receive Japanese relief subscriptions in districts where there is no branch of the Red Cross organization was the proposal laid before the Premier today by Fred W. Jones, of the local branch of the society.

"Personally, I see no objection to this plan, but I have yet to take it up with my colleagues," the Premier stated after his interview with Mr. Jones.

GRAIN COMMISSION SITS AT VANCOUVER

Need Stressed For More Grain Outlets on Pacific

Vancouver, Sept. 10.—Canada's needs for more purely Canadian wheat shipping ports was stressed at the opening of the sittings of the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission here this morning. Witnesses, representing the business interests of this city, appearing before the commissioners urged that in the development of Vancouver as a grain shipping port rested more opportunities for prosperity for the wheat farmers of Western Canada. By the development of the western grain route through Vancouver, it was stated, much of the grain raised in Alberta and Western Saskatchewan at present being exported through United States ports would go through Vancouver. This would give Canadians the profits that now go to American dealers.

Witnesses stated the cost of exporting would be reduced by two-thirds by exporting through Vancouver. It would mean a quicker return to the farmer for his wheat. It was submitted that the large amount of shipping available on the coast, with the resultant keen competition, would mean lower ocean freight rates, a further saving.

CALCUTTA CENTRE TO-DAY OF SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCK

Fifty People Reported Killed or Injured in Nymen Singh District in India; Many Houses Are Said to Have Collapsed; Zurich Observatory Registered Quake

London, Sept. 10.—Fifty persons are reported killed or injured in an earthquake which shook Calcutta today, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that British Indian city. The reported casualties occurred in the Nymen Singh district, where many houses collapsed.

London, Sept. 10.—A severe earthquake shock was experienced in Calcutta at 3:57 o'clock this morning, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that city. The inhabitants hurried from the buildings in night attire.

Series of Shocks
Zurich, Sept. 10.—The seismograph at the Zurich observatory at 2:17 o'clock this morning registered a series of shocks lasting several seconds at a distance of 10,000 kilometres.

Georgetown Registers
Washington, Sept. 10.—An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded between 5:23 and 6:40 p.m. yesterday on the seismograph at Georgetown University. Father Tondorf, the observer, says it was very difficult from the record to determine the distance of the disturbance but estimated it centred 2,300 or 2,400 miles from Washington. It had two periods of maximum intensity, at 6 and at 6:15 o'clock.

Recorded Here
An earthquake the origin of which was at so great a distance as to confuse the record and make estimation of its distance uncertain was recorded on the instruments at Gonzales Heights Observatory yesterday. The first wave was registered at 2:14:45 p.m.; the maximum wave at 2:06 p.m. The record lasted for three hours.

Sharp Earth Shocks Are Renewed at Tokio

Tokio, Sept. 10.—Sharp earth shocks again last night aroused considerable nervousness, but did not interfere with the work of reconstruction which the end of the first week of Japan's disaster shows to be well under way.

The Cabinet is co-operating in every way with business men and the military in the work of Government look to the prevention of such widespread destruction in the event of another terrific earthquake. The plans were not made public, but are known to include provision for fireproof and quakeproof buildings and avoidance of congestion. For the better administration of relief and reconstruction the military staff has been divided between Tokio and Osaka. Tokio barracks have resumed small payments. Tokio and Osaka are now linked by fast boats and trains are running again between Tokio and Yokohama.

Admiral Anderson, commander of the Asiatic fleet of the United States navy, is now in Tokio. The people are displaying their gratitude for the prompt assistance given by America and Great Britain.

Sixty Thousand Bodies Are Recovered in Japan

Tokio, Sept. 10.—Sixty thousand bodies had been recovered in Tokio and Yokohama up to and including today and the police estimate that 500,000 persons have been treated for wounds and sickness as a result of the earthquake. A landing party from the United States destroyer Huron buried the dead from the American naval hospital at Yokohama.

No Cholera Epidemic
Tokio, Via Osaka, Sept. 10.—Reports of a threatened epidemic of cholera in the region devastated by the earthquake are unfounded, according to the authorities.

"Thousands rushed for the eastern part of the enclosure and many perished in the stampede. The flames, converging from all sides continued to take an awful toll. I ran to a pool of water in which I spent the night with a cushion on my head. On all sides the groans of the dying could be heard and as the fire died, the brick walls of the enclosure were transformed into an arena in which thousands were roasted. In the morning when the fire had burned itself out the troops came and rescued thirty of us from the pool. The compound was covered with half-burned corpses."

CITY MUST PAY HALF

Has "Fifty-Fifty" Agreement With Dominion Government on Cost of Quarantine Extension
Laterals

Members of the finance committee
of the City Council under Alderman Leeming at their meeting this afternoon learned definitely that an agreement between the city and the Dominion Government calls for each
to bear fifty-fifty the cost of extension laterals to the quarantine station.

Legal opinion was presented to the committee setting at rest all doubts
on the matter.

The work was done at a cost of $1,845. It is understood, and the city is bound by the agreement to pay half.

Application for the annual grant to the Salvation Army is to be made to the committee to-day. It is understood, when a member of the Salvation Army arrives at the city, the plea in person, setting out the work done by the army in this centre.

Matters in relation to the Johnson Street Bridge and other works are likely to be tabled, due to the fact that City Engineer F. M. Preston is now on holiday.

City Purchasing Agent E. S. Michell is away on the second week of his holiday.

Province to Give LEASES TO FALSE
CREEK FORESHORE

Landholders on False Creek foreshore, in Vancouver, must make immediate application to the Provincial Government for leases, Hon. T. D.
Pattullo, Minister of Lands, told a delegation of Vancouver businessmen who gathered before him this morning. The Provincial Government, Mr. Pattullo explained, claims ownership of portions of the False Creek foreshore and it is for landholders there to secure their leases
from the provincial authorities.

day evening and Lord Renfrew entered into the hilarious gaiety with zeal. He mixed with masqueraders, getting tangled in the streamers and bumped around like everyone else.
Again he danced with Mrs. Holt and Miss Parker and also with Miss Baillie, of Toronto.

For one dance he apparently had no partner and stood with his back to the wall looking on smilingly, like many others similarly situated. Deck games have not yet claimed Lord Renfrew, but on Saturday afternoon wearing a colored sweater, underneath his coat and with his cap pulled down, he and Brigadier-General Trotter did the mile and half or two miles around the deck, a brisk pace in a cold blustering wind that had driven most of the passengers to shelter.

As may be imagined, the passengers are taking a very lively interest
in an unobtrusive way in the daily life of the heir to the throne. The lounges and dining saloons of the liner are veritable hives of flowers in honor of the royal passenger.

Sunday was a quiet day on shipboard, divine service was held in the saloon, a service by Bishop Holden, of Shanghai; Rev. Mr. Charles Ald, formerly pastor of Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York,
and now pastor of the First Congregational Church, Kansas City, Kan., preached.

Read Lessons

Lord Renfrew read the Scripture
lesson which was the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, his clear, steady, sympathetic voice and unaffected manner gave peculiar impression to the reading. As this chapter is the greatest throne in the world, in quiet, earnest tones, read and though I have all faith so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing, "one could not help being moved, and when later the minister prayed for God's blessing upon Edward, Prince of Wales, many reverently and full-heartedly said "Amen."

Mrs. Lionel H. Clark, of Toronto, and Judge Tensley and Mrs. Tessier, of Quebec, lunched with Lord Renfrew. The afternoon was spent quietly in his own apartments and a few cycles on the sidewalk, was released
the day to a close.

ACCUSED REMANDED

Peter T. Quong, Mong Sun and Charles Lee, charged with speeding,
in the City Police Court to-day entered pleas of not guilty through W.
C. Moresby, their counsel, and were remanded for hearing to-morrow.
Ivor Hancock, charged with riding a cycle on the sidewalk, was released
with a warning.

VEGETARIAN WALKERS ON 4,500-MILE WALK

On a 4,500-mile hike through Canada and America, W. H. Chapman, of Milington, Connecticut, a veteran walker of seventy-six years of age, arrived in the city this morning after walking since July 23. Mr.
Chapman is hale and hearty and amazingly full of vigor in spite of his years.

Accepting the conditions of a wager
for $5,000 offered by the American Magazine Company, Mr. Chapman set off from Milwaukee, Wis., on July 23, in an attempt to walk through Canada, south to California
then across the Imperial desert back to New Orleans. Under the conditions he is allowed to accept rides en route and must be self-sufficient, the wager being to pay the cost of boat traveling where necessary.

Everywhere in Canada he has met with generous assistance in the way of proffered lifts, stated Mr. Chapman this morning. The highest point touched in his trip so far was Storm Mountain Rest on the Banff-Windermere road, which he reached after climbing a grade of 1,300 feet in five miles. Roads were generally excellent except between Cranbrook and Kootenay Lake, he averred.

Luggage is reduced to the minimum, for his wants are fulfilled from a small satchel and a small haversack
on his back. In each city or town he makes an official call on the mayor or other official to second documentary evidence of his call. His first visit in Victoria was made at Government Buildings,
where Premier Oliver signed a letter stating that the veteran hiker had duly called there.

Providing that he can raise sufficient funds to pay the ferry trip, Mr.
Chapman will tramp this afternoon to Sidney en route for Bellingham on the next stage of his jaunt. He expects to reach his ultimate destination by July next year, and he has kept within the scheduled time en route.

the last session of Parliament. The programme for 1923 was considered and passed, under the company's officers and directors' ions before any information was given out as to the National Railways' intentions regarding the programme has not been departed from in the slightest degree
in consequence of the Senate's action.
Not a mile of new branch line construction has been authorized, and the National's plans were made public.

Crop Prospects

Asked if he had any announcement to make as to the probable yield of wheat, the President stated that the crop was being variously estimated by those in a good position to judge to be from 350,000,000 to 450,000,000 bushels, he was not yet in a position to hazard an estimate. It is certain, however, that it is a magnificent crop.

Immigration

It was suggested to the President that he might have some specific message to give on the problem of immigration. He said that while very little that was new could be said on the subject, he intended to meet with the members of the various Boards of Trade to emphasize the necessity for more intensive efforts if the country was to be developed with even moderate speed.
He added that the people of Canada seemed to be divided into two main classes. Those with unbounded self-confidence and those who were understanding and those who were presented the doctrine of despondency, not probably with the idea of discrediting the country, but of impressing the people with the necessity of exercising great caution and developing policies which would reduce the burden on its citizens, and make it a still more inviting place to which men and money might be attracted.

On the other hand, lack of faith will stunt its normal natural development.

What would seem to be needed is a serious appreciation of the need of economy, but in the last analysis that only means that we should take care and sober thought of the situation with a view to improving it. It is always a serious thing when money is wasted and it is particularly so when money is wasted when revenues are low. For the next few years public and private expenditures in Canada should be made with great care and almost entirely in works of a productive character. We can afford to do without many luxuries until the taxpayer is relieved of the burden of his burden.

"I hope, he added, that Fall business will be good and a great deal
will depend on whether the grain
was a hidden benefit of quickness. If the initial movement is large, the transportation company's will, of course, benefit and general
trade will feel an immediate effect.
Whether the withdrawal of American shipping from Canadian lake ports will have an adverse effect will depend a good deal on the extent of it.

"It would be a great pity, however,
if any substantial portion of the year's crop is forced into the hands of Canadian channels by reason of the recent legislative restrictions in the matter of lake tariffs. I am just as confident as I can be about the future and I sincerely hope that the progress will not be retarded or made more difficult by our own acts."

SUBSCRIBES LARGE SUM

One hundred and twenty-five dollars for the entertainment of C.P.R.
ticket agents who will pay a flying visit to Victoria from their convention at Portland, Sept. 17, was subscribed in three minutes at the Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting this afternoon as the foundation of an entertainment fund.

The passenger agents will only be in the city a few hours. Members want to take advantage of the "golden opportunity" to show the city and hospitality to the men who, it was explained, can do so much for the tourist trade.

Frank Waring, chairman of the tourist group, reported that slight-ing men were co-operating.

CITY HAS BOOSTER IN ST. PAUL; YEARLY VISITOR TO VICTORIA

"It would be difficult indeed to compress into a few words the many charms of Victoria," writes
H. L. Osborn, of St. Paul, Minnesota, a yearly visitor to this city
ever since 1915, "all its most romantic historic background, its wonderful seaside location, the movements of its shipping and sailings, and to and from the Orient
and Australia, and the people one meets in consequence, the beautiful homes, the gardens, the wonderful atmosphere and temperature, these and much more unite to make life a joy there. We have been annual visitors to Victoria for the past eight years, and have become more enchanted every time."

This communication was received by the Victoria and Island-Publicity Bureau. Mr. Osborn was asking for literature to put to use in St. Paul. The Publicity authorities value Mr. Osborn's opinion and influence very highly. He was here only two or three days, but he enjoyed a lengthy holiday on the island.

MENACE OF RACIAL EGOISM

Dr. A. O. MacRae Speaks to Gyro Club

That there appeared a great need of the elimination of prejudice, of nationalism and the wiping out of racial egotism, was the view advanced at the Gyro Club luncheon to-day by Dr. A. O. MacRae, principal of the University School, which will open its Fall term on Wednesday.

MacRae spoke on "The Strength and weakness of nationalism," and emphasized at the outset that he took no particular stand, but wished to deal with the subject from a speculative standpoint.

The speaker wondered whether or not nationalism had finished its work, and whether there was the possibility of new form on the horizon known as humanism, which had to do with the brotherhood of the races.

There arose the question, said Dr.
MacRae, is there a weak side to nationalism? It had been developed for self-preservation but it appeared to have advanced into self-aggrandizement.

"Nationalism has served a great purpose but that which sees development only in its own stock is in peril," declared the speaker. "It is like a ship leaving port without a compass, and it is in peril."

Before the Great War people were told that the world was beyond war, yet it came through the pressing of nationalism too, said the speaker. There still is a need of a new type of nationalism if the world was not to witness a recurrence of the evils of the past.

The spirit of one race's superiority over another must not be carried so far.

The future of the people lay not in this generation but in the youth attending school, said Dr. MacRae, and he pointed out how in one generation Germany had changed its whole character of nationalism.

W. V. Jones was the soloist and his numbers were heartily appreciated.

VOTERS' LIST CHARGES HEARD

R. C. Gibson Pleads Guilty to
Two Counts of Forgery

Case Has no Political Significance, Urge Both Counsel

Appearing unexpectedly in the City Police Court to-day, though his trial had been set for Wednesday, R. C. Gibson, charged on remand with two counts of forgery of applications for registration on the Provincial voters' list, pleaded guilty on both counts.

The accused, through P. J. Sinnott, his counsel, threw himself on the mercy of the court in an appeal for clemency for what counsel described as
"the act of an ignorant man."

A conviction was recorded on each of the counts, and the accused remanded until Wednesday for sentence.

Application for release on bail was refused by Magistrate Jay, who held that the accused must be held in custody in the interval until sentence was passed upon him. The proceedings were witnessed by but few people outside his home, Mr. John Day, William Duck, and Harry Price.
Features of the proceedings this morning were reiterated statements
by counsel for the accused that the prosecution and alleged crime had absolutely no political significance.

When the hearing opened by special leave of the court, Mr. Sinnott said his client wished to plead guilty to both counts, and elect summary trial before Magistrate Jay. The accused was then formally charged with forging applications for provincial registration in the names of Clara Ethel Simpson and Annie Simpson, respectively. No evidence was given, but in a brief summary
City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison laid the facts of the case before the court.

Details of Cases
"I will confine my remarks to these two charges, rather than have a multiplicity of charges," said Mr.
Sinnott in opening his case. The defendant held a commission as commissioner for taking affidavits in the Victoria electoral district. He went to the Simpson residence at 443 Graham Street and secured the names of the household, five in all, Mrs.
Simpson, a daughter, and three sons,
all of whom were living in the United States at that time. He filed an application form and then signed the names of those in the household and his own as commissioner.

Sixteen Informations
"The applicants did not know this,
and consequently the five documents were forgeries," the defendant, in honor, did the same thing in regard to a number of other persons—a total of sixteen informations are here now.
Among the sixteen are two made by the same lady at different dates. The application was repeated in fact.

When Mr. Mahon, registrar for the Provincial voters' list, sent for
Mr. Gibson the accused attended.
Asked if he had signed the Simpson names, he denied it. Therefore, there was no suggestion that he did it with their authority. On the other hand,
I must say this, he is not a trained man and I presume he is not instructed in the law," continued Mr.
Harrison.

"There is one man here repeated in the applications," remarked the court, perusing the forms handed up for his inspection.

"There are several repeaters," agreed Mr. Harrison.

"No Political Significance"
That commissioners had been appointed indiscriminately, and given no instructions, was urged by Mr.
Sinnott. "The accused was quite unaware it was necessary for him to get applicants to sign their names.
There is no political significance behind it, for sooner or later the voters would have been checked up—so he had no benefit to derive from it. The whole thing was done without intent, and through ignorance. The affair is absurd and only goes to show that the accused was an ignorant man.
He is entitled to every consideration on that account—and in view of his excellent reputation—he worked for five years in the B. C. Electric Railway Company, and for his clemency of suspended sentence," concluded Mr. Sinnott.

Attwell D. King and Henry Gibson, stand to give the accused an excellent character.

In closing for the Crown Mr. Harrison agreed with counsel for the defendant that the case had no political significance. This was clearly shown by the facts he would submit.

Application for bail was then refused, and the accused remanded in custody for sentence on Wednesday.
There are some features of this case I wish to examine," remarked
the court in closing.

FIRE SITUATION STILL HAZARDOUS

British Columbia forests are still in a "hazardous" condition, although fire outbreaks reported so far are only half as numerous as they were at this time last year, according to the Parliament Buildings to-day by P. Z.
Caverhill, chief forester.

So far, this year 1,210 fires have been reported, as against 2,284 at this time last year, the rangers reported.

"Conditions throughout the Province
are now hazardous and extremely so in the East Kootenays," the reporter said.

Vancouver district, including Vancouver Island, has suffered most from fires this year. No less than 444 outbreaks have been reported in this area. Nelson is next with 224. Then comes Prince Rupert with 162. Cranbrook 54, Prince George 54, Vernon 74, Cariboo 64 and Kamloops 59.

URGENT WASHINGTON TO END NORTHERN LIQUOR BLOCKADE

Ottawa Negotiates With U.S.
to Get Liquor Into Yukon
and Atlin

Mackenzie Explains Plight of Northern Settlers to State Department

British Columbia's difficulties
in attempting to take liquor supplies into the Yukon and Atlin areas have been laid before the United States State Department
by the Canadian Government, according to advices received at the Attorney-General's Department here to-day from Premier Mackenzie King.

Mr. King will explain to the State Department that the Yukon and Atlin districts, cut off from the coast by dry Alaskan territory, cannot bring in supplies of liquor and that present supplies are growing low.
Until he has ascertained the views of the United States Government on the question the Premier will reserve
announcement of the Canadian Government's policy for a later date.

Several proposals for overcoming the legal difficulties of the "dry blockade" of northern British Columbia and Yukon territory have been laid before the Ottawa authorities.
Mr. King will not rule upon these suggestions, he says, until he has received a definite statement of the views of the United States Government.

The British Columbia authorities are pressing for an early decision on the whole question so that liquor may be shipped into the northern areas before the winter sets in. Unless some way of overcoming the legal difficulties is found, the American dry law is discovered these cold lands may be without a drop of liquid cheer next Christmas.

Rail Rates
G. G. McGee, K. C., counsel for British Columbia, presented the witnesses arguing for the further development of the western grain route.
The witnesses were unanimous that only by the reduction of the rates on grain, which they said were too
high as compared with eastern rates,
and by the increase of grain handling facilities of this port, would the Western Canadian grain trade be able to benefit from shipping its grain
by way of Vancouver.

Rail Rates Protested
Robert McKee, a prominent local milling man, was the first witness before the commission. Mr. McKee objected to the mountain scale of freight rates. It practically constituted a barrier to trade between the prairies and the Pacific coast, resulting in a retarding of the commercial development of Western Canada.

He pointed out that much of the grain shipped eastward by way of Great Lakes did not go through Montreal, but through American ports instead. It was not only handled through American ports, but was usually handled three times.

By the Vancouver route, he said,
it would be handled only once which would be a great saving to the Canadian farmers.

Regarding the existing grain rates,
he said there was nothing to warrant the Canadian National charging the high rates it did, outside of the fact that up to the present the West had not been sufficiently strong in numbers of population, or sufficiently vigorous to demand equal treatment
with the people of the East.

Stress was laid on the fact that the grain exporters of the Western States were developing their Pacific Ocean ports to the utmost. Last year, Mr.
McKee said, the ports of Washington and Oregon shipped 67,000,000 bushels, as compared with 27,000,000 bushels the year previous. He thought Vancouver should have the facilities to handle grain in proportion to the size of the crop in Western Canada, as had these American ports. Regarding the supply of vessels, he said as long as there was grain to be handled, there would be sufficient tonnage to take it away.

Vancouver's advantages, he said,
were chiefly in the fact that there was a shorter rail haul than by the eastward route for grain from Alberta and Western Saskatchewan. It was an all year port, with no storage charges to pay.

Cars could be handled with great efficiency and less expense. Better weather conditions by the western route reduced the cost of winter operating.

It would mean a quicker release of funds, thus lessening the burden of the banks. Operating costs of Vancouver terminals were lower, he said, because they handled the greatest possible quantity of grain during a season.

Statistics
"Statistics for the year ending 1922
show that the export of Canadian grain through Atlantic-American ports had increased to 108,000,000 bushels, while the exports through Canadian-Atlantic ports had decreased to 34,000,000 bushels," Mr.
McKee said. "It is apparent that Canada's greatest foreign trade asset is being moved to world markets to the advantage of American lake ports and American seaports on the Atlantic coast and to the advantage of American shipping and port business. For these reasons I submit that your commission should find that the development of the western grain route should be given every assistance and every possible encouragement and that ample facilities should be provided to take care of the grain crop

T. W. B. London, the second witness, pointed out that the development of Canada's Pacific ports would automatically result in a wider market for Canadian grain. It would mean a greater market in the Orient,
and South America also would be available. At present, he said, fourteen grain firms were situated in Vancouver as a direct result of the development of the port, while many others were contemplating locating branches here.

HARVEST IMMIGRANTS WOULD AIR GRIEVANCES

Winnipeg, Sept. 10.—About 125 harvest immigrants passed a resolution at a meeting here yesterday requesting urgent consideration by the Federal Government of grievances advanced by them in Western Canada. The men are willing to work, it is said, provided some guarantee is offered, together with transportation. Immediate deportation to England was demanded in the event of the Government failing to give employment.

CANNOT REPUDIATE PROMISE ON CATTLE

British Minister Makes Statement on Canadian Breeding Stock

London, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press cable).—Sir Robert Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, speaking at Bridge-water recently, said that Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, former Minister of Agriculture, with the Government's confirmation, had promised Canadians that, in connection with the lifting of the embargo against Canadian cattle, an order should be made for the admission to this country of breeding cattle from Canada, but he had acted on a misunderstanding regarding the consent of certain leading agriculturists. Owing to the strong objections of these to the admission of breeding cattle, some of them were urging the present Government to repudiate the promise, but the Government could not do that.

If the Canadians wished it, however, the Government was prepared to introduce a bill allowing the admission of pedigree breeding stock on reciprocal terms between Great Britain and the Dominion. The Minister said the admission to be subject to the necessary veterinary precautions. This course, he added, had the concurrence of the agricultural committee of the House of Commons, the chairman of the Farmers' Union and other leading agriculturists.

FRENCH SENTENCE STUDENT TO DIE

Youth Hurling Grenade Into Detachment of Troops

Dusseldorf, Sept. 10.—Richard Raab, twenty years old, student, was sentenced to death Saturday by a French court martial after conviction on a charge of throwing a hand grenade into the midst of a detachment of French troops on August 4. Two of the soldiers and a German woman and child were wounded by the explosion.

BILL TO LEGALIZE IRISH ARMY MEETS WITH CRITICISM

Dublin, Sept. 10.—A bill to legalize the Irish National Army, which hitherto has operated without legislative authority, recently was framed and has been the subject of much criticism from both Labour and Conservative members in the Dail. The measure constitutes an army code similar to the King's regulations for the British army, and would be effective only for one year. At the end of that time, the bill provides, the army question may be reconsidered.

Labor leaders oppose the measure because of the distinction between officers and men, while the Conservatives urge that it be modelled more closely after British Dominion army legislation. Other critics object to the present method of combining the offices of Minister for Defence and Commander-in-Chief, and have started agitation to have the Defence Ministry made a separate and civilian office.

If the measure, which is known as the "Defence Forces Bill," passes, it will give the army a legal status for the first time. To date, the 50,000 men comprising the national forces have served on an emergency basis. The bill is elaborate, comprising 245 clauses, and providing for the establishment of an Irish Military College for officers, for the creation of an army reserve, and making the designations of military rank.

All soldiers will be required under the measure to take an oath, pledging "true faith and allegiance to our country."

The present strength of the army has caused much discussion, as it is in excess of the proportion with the British army, agreed to in the treaty. Answering the critics, General Mulcahy announced recently that by next March he expects to reduce the total of armed forces to 30,000.

A judge on a certain circuit was accustomed to doze during the speeches of counsel. On one occasion counsel was addressing him on the subject of certain town commissioners' rights to obtain water from a river, water being scarce at the time.

During his speech he made use of the words, "But, my lord, we must have water—we must have water." Whereupon the judge woke up, exclaiming, "Well, just a little; I like it fairly strong."

ODD FELLOWS WILL MEET FOR WEEK IN TRIPLE CONCLAVE

Thousands of Delegates to Cincinnati Convention

Cincinnati, Sept. 10 (Associated Press).—Thousands of visitors and delegates are expected here during the week of September 17 in connection with the triple convention of the various branches of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Sovereign Grand Lodge, the General Military Council, and the Association of Rebekah Assemblies of the World. Cincinnati lodges are raising a fund of $50,000 for the purpose of entertainment.

Detroit Odd Fellows have made hotel reservations for 1,100, and more than 1,000 are coming from St. Paul and Minneapolis. Toronto members have reserved accommodations for 600, and orders for reservations have been coming in from all parts of Canada and the United States for blocks of from fifty to 500. Thousands of Cincinnatians will throw open their homes to accommodate those who cannot be taken care of at the hotels.

Prize offers aggregating $15,000 for degree competition and drills have tended to induce entire lodges to come here for the convention, many of them arranging to bring their own bands. These may reach a total of thirty. With approximately twenty local bands, the visiting organizations will take part in the grand parade on Wednesday, September 19. The 147th Regiment Band, a world war organization, has been engaged as the official musical organization for the convention.

The programme includes addresses by a number of prominent persons. A dinner tendered by the local committee to the I.O.O.F. International Press Association will be a feature on the opening day. There also will be a public reception to Lucian J. Eastin, of St. Joseph, Mo., Grand Erie, and other officers and representatives of the Sovereign Grand Lodge. Mr. Eastin has recently returned from Europe, where he studied the condition of European Odd Fellows, which is under the jurisdiction of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and will make a report to the convention.

ITALIANS PUT GREEK EDITOR IN PRISON

Captured as He Was on Way to Investigate Murders

London, Sept. 10.—An Athens dispatch to The Daily Telegraph says that the Italian authorities captured R. Vrahines, the Greek newspaper Eleutherios Tipos, as he was en route to Prevalas in a sailing ship with the intention of proceeding to Ioannina to investigate the murders of the Italian boundary commissioners.

It was Vrahines, says the dispatch, who called the Italians "the fugitives of Caporetto." He has been imprisoned at Milan.

An Athens dispatch said the Greek Government had suspended for one day the above-mentioned newspaper for its characterization of the Italians as the "fugitives of Caporetto."

CHEMISTS WILL DIVULGE PROCESS IN BREAD MAKING

New York, Sept. 10 (Associated Press).—Revolutionary processes in the scientific baking of bread, drastic reform in the teaching of chemistry in the nation's high schools, elimination of waste in the manufacture of paper, and disposal of the sewage of the cities will, it is announced here, be discussed at a national meeting of the American Chemical Society to be held in Milwaukee, Wis., commencing to-day.

Problems of American agriculture and of the leather and rubber industries also will come up. The meeting, which will be attended by chemists from all over the United States and from foreign countries, will, according to officials of the society, heard amazing post-war advances in chemical science.

Featuring the convention will be two joint forums by the agricultural and food divisions of the society. One, with the industrial division, will be devoted to bread, under the chairmanship of Dr. H. E. Barnard, of Minneapolis. The other, with the fertilizer division will discuss fertilizers and crops, the chairman being H. A. Noyes, of Westfield, N.Y.

Recent developments, involving animal experiments and marking what is described as a great advance in the science of bread making, will be publicly announced at the bread symposium. These developments, it was stated, will be of vital economic interest, as this year 60,000,000 barrels of flour are being turned into bread. Baking science has developed faster in the last ten years than in all the previous years of man. Only a few decades ago, according to Dr. Barnard, bread was made in practically the same way as in the time of King Tut.

Representatives of leading American colleges and technical schools will discuss methods of teaching chemistry, including classroom and laboratory work. A central event of this gathering will be the discussion of a plan to change the methods of teaching chemistry in American high schools, it being felt that greater emphasis should be placed on the practical application of chemistry.

No man is ashamed of his acts as often as he should be.

EMPRESS EUGENIE'S EFFECTS WERE SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $10,000

London, Sept. 10.—Members of England's oldest and highest families stood with almost tearful eyes when the once priceless effects of the late Empress Eugenie of France were sold under the hammer at ridiculously small prices, but still beyond their impoverished purses. The goods sold were principally her late majesty's dresses, slippers, gowns, laces and furs.

Most of the stuff was bought by dealers, although some of the former empress's servants and followers were able to buy small articles. The hundred and sixty lots brought about $10,000, which would hardly have paid for one of the court gowns worn at the royal festivities in the days of splendor.

A lot of rare Alencon lace brought $1,115 and a fur stole $525. A beautiful rug into which was woven the royal cipher with the arms of Spain and France, given to the empress on her wedding day by the carpet makers of Seville, was bought by a Frenchman and will be presented to a French museum. It is supposed to have been on this rug that the Empress Napoleon III and Empress Eugenie received the blessing after their marriage.

CLOTHIERS WILL SHOW HOW SUITS ARE MADE

Chicago, Sept. 10 (Associated Press).—From the wool on a sheep's back to a suit of clothes on a man's back, including all the various evolutions necessary to such an operation, is to be demonstrated at the annual exposition of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, which will be held in Chicago the last week in September.

It will be an official demonstration, as the bureau of standards of the United States has loaned its complete woolen mill for the occasion and also will send three government experts to co-operate in the conversion.

The object is to give the man who buys clothing a clear idea of the work necessary to turn out the finished article, and also concrete knowledge of the actual cost entailed in such transformation.

Unborn sheep will be driven into the Municipal Park, where the exposition is to be held, through an entrance and the man will walk out another entrance wearing a suit of clothes made from the material obtained from wool sheared from these animals.

An expert accountant will follow every move of the operation and make an official record of the actual cost of each individual part of the work and when the suit is finished the public will be given the official figures.

The retailers also will have a booth of efficiency experts who will show how much of an expense is incurred by the retailer in selling clothes.

A well-known English entertainer, who prides himself on being able to speak the Doric like a Scotsman, was appearing in Glasgow, and at a dinner told a few stories in his best Scottish accent.

"What part of Scotland would you say I belonged to, judging by my accent?" he asked his host afterwards. "Perthshire," replied the Scot promptly.

SECRETARY-TREASURER OF MUNICIPALITIES HANDS RESIGNATION

Montreal, Sept. 10.—A. D. Shibley, secretary-treasurer of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, has resigned that office. Mr. Shibley in a statement issued says: "The reason of my action was the repudiation of the convention of an agreement entered into by the president and myself in respect of the official paper of the union. This agreement was expressly authorized by last year's Winnipeg convention. The resolution of repudiation was put through in the closing hours of the recent Shawinigan meeting by a group of nine delegates."

IRISH FREE STATE CORDIALLY WELCOMED BY WORLD LEAGUE

The Sandman Story For To-night

THE MERMAID'S PET

One day at the bottom of the ocean a pretty little mermaid saw a little red fish which she wanted very much. But as the mermaids cannot catch any of the curious fish they see swimming about without asking Father Neptune, she had to swim to his castle and ask if she might have the little red fish for a pet.

Old Neptune always granted any wish the mermaids made if he could, but he told this little mermaid that if all of her sisters cried for a little red fish for a pet he would be in a pretty fix. "For don't you see," he said, "all the red fish would soon be so scared of a mermaid they might jump out of the ocean and escape. Now if you will promise to be kind to the little red fish and not let the other mermaids know about it I will grant your wish."

Of course the mermaid promised, and ran off to capture her pet, which was no easy matter, for the little red fish was as fast a swimmer as the mermaid.

But at last she coaxed it to come close enough for her to capture, and soon she had a sea-weed harness on it and a leash and off she went to her home among the coral reefs and fastened the leash to her doorway.

But the little red fish did not care for this sort of life, and though the mermaid made a beautiful bed for it in a mother-of-pearl shell, with a pillow of sea-weed and fed it all kinds of dainties it sulked and wailed.

Little red fish hurried to her

its tall angrily every time it remembered the big ocean and how it used to swim about without a leash.

One day some of the other mermaids wondered why their sister was so often absent from their frolics when they went to the rocks at the top of the ocean. "She always makes an excuse to stay at home," said one. "I think she has a secret none of us know about."

"Let us find out," said another. "We will glide down right close to her house and see if we can find out."

So they stopped combing their long golden hair and tucked their combs between the rocks and swam to the spot right over the home of the little mermaid who had the red fish. Very noiselessly they went down through the water and peeped around the coral; and there they saw what kept their sister away from their frolics on the rocks. She had a pet, a little red fish on a leash which she took out for a swim close to her home.

Then, of course, all the mermaids wanted a pet. But they did not go to Father Neptune and ask as the other little mermaid had done. Instead they thought of a very wrong thing to do. They decided to untie the seaweed leash and take the little red fish away when the other mermaid was not watching.

So that night when she was asleep they stole to her door and unfasted the seaweed leash. But while they were deciding which one was to hold the leash and before they knew what was happening off swam little red fish, glad to have his freedom.

He forgot it was night and that he should be in bed. He was so glad to get away that he swam a long time and then suddenly he saw something black swimming towards him. He was a well scared little fish when later he found himself tucked in among the coral reefs. Before he had taken refuge from the big black thing which he was sure was a shark.

He thought of the little mermaid who had been so fond of him and so kind and he began to wish he was back there fastened to her doorway.

What was it he heard? Some one crying—he was sure. Little red fish slipped out from his hiding place and followed the sound and there in front of her home at the pretty mermaid on the sand crying. Little red fish hurried to her and when she saw him she clasped her hands for joy and because she loved him so much red fish decided he would always live there and never swim away again. And he did not need a leash to keep him close to the little mermaid's home, either. When the other mermaids came again to carry him off he quickly swam inside the home of his mistress and Father Neptune, when asked by the other mermaids for a red fish pet, told them that if they could find one that would love them as well as little red fish loved his mistress they could have one, too. But they never did so, this little mermaid was the only one who had a pet at the bottom of the ocean.

A FRENCH VICTORY

Its correspondent in Berlin is the authority upon which the Central News relies for its announcement to the effect that the population in the occupied areas of Germany have been ordered to discontinue their passive resistance to the French and Belgian authorities.

If the foregoing important item of news shall be confirmed there will no longer be any doubt about the success of French policy in the Ruhr. It will vindicate the view to which the Quai d'Orsay has so persistently clung since the early days of last January and will carry with it compensating advantages of a psychological character that will go far to repay France for what she has suffered in smaller deliveries in kind since she resorted to collection by force.

What is more important still, however, is the prospect which the reported capitulation spreads out for the restoration of Europe in an economic sense. For if organized obstruction is about to be replaced by even the most modest form of co-operation there is every possibility that France herself will be glad to cut her own expenses and agree to a more "attenuated" form of military domination in the occupied areas. None the less it need not be expected that either the French Government or the French people will consent to any more quarter than Germany may obtain by furnishing suitable guarantees. For if ever there was a point upon which France as a whole is united it is upon this particular piece of national policy.

To-day's report comes quickly after the speech which Chancellor Stresemann delivered the other day. It should be something of a triumph for him if only because it is a course that indicates an increasing volume of public sentiment against methods that are merely adding to general chaos and social uncertainty.

AN ENTIRELY NEW ACT?

It will be interesting news for the people of British Columbia to learn that Mr. Bowser is "through with hammering these fellows over the Bay" and that from now on he will be busy discussing with the public and formulating the policies which we will put into force when we get into power and take over the government of the country.

The people of British Columbia have waited nearly six years for something really original from the leader of the Opposition in the local Legislature. They have read reports of the sessions of the House in the hope that there would at least be something of a constructive nature from the titular head of an important political party. It was not to be supposed, of course, that Mr. Bowser would do anything more than hold himself in more or less meek subjection during the progress of the 1917 session. To sit in the cool shade of opposition was a new experience and such fresh thoughts as may have come to him in that comparatively short space of time would naturally not lend themselves to enthusiastic advertisement. But as time went on the people began to look for rather more than a set of parrot-like utterances that were merely brought up to date as each successive session came round. Even the members of his own party began to see the danger of continually harping upon the fanciful sins of the Government in power without the slightest attempt to produce anything that might be considered as a feasible alternative policy. They naturally asked themselves how the Leader of the Opposition could expect to build all the roads that he would have the Government build and still reduce the tax burdens of the people. From this standpoint most of Mr. Bowser's "hammering" has been conducted.

All this is to come to an end now. The people of British Columbia are going to get a real insight into the constructive capacity of the Leader of the Opposition. And he himself announces the fact that Mr. Pooley will make the Northern trip and take "his side-line of prune juice with him." No doubt this is intended as the comic relief to the new and more serious programme that Mr. Bowser is going to try out for the first time.

THE LEAGUE'S FUTURE

Now that the dispute between Italy and Greece has been settled without more fighting the League of Nations will be the principal sufferer unless it shall take action to deal with its recalcitrant charter member without delay. Italy has declined to recognize that the League Covenant obliges her to submit her dispute to the League for settlement. In plain language Italy has gone back on her word and has exposed herself to the charge that she regards the obligation to which she subscribed as a "scrap of paper."

There is no necessity to put the offending nation in the dock. But it naturally follows that the present gathering of the member states cannot be closed unless there shall be something more than a perfunctory reference to a circumstance that involves its future existence. There will have to be a definite pronouncement and a reaffirmation of staunch allegiance to and religious observance of the provisions of the Covenant. Unless Italy so subscribes the question of her future membership cannot be ignored.

HOLD THEM ALL

Holding the harvesters who have come to this country from Great Britain and adding them to our permanent population will be the immediate concern of the Department of Immigration and Colonization and that of the Employment Service of Canada.

This is precisely as it should be because of the fact that if any considerable number of these men should return to Britain the impression will be created that there is very little room here for the willing worker. That is a contingency which the proper department should guard against to the utmost of its ability.

No very serious stock will be taken of some of the complaints that have been aired. The intelligent man who has come out to the harvest fields and has not found conditions up to his ideal of farming life will understand that the comparatively green 'un must expect to undergo a certain amount of re-adjustment. He will have to unlearn some of the things he has learned and learn others that are strange to him at the moment. But there is nothing very difficult about the process. What others with very little advantage to start with have done before him he can do also.

Mr. Robb has already announced that he contemplates a broadening of policy in regard to settlers. He should experience no difficulty in following out his proposal. He knows, and everybody else ought to know, that if this country cannot take all the white and healthy persons of peaceful and industrial persuasion that Britain, and other countries, can send us there is something radically wrong.

On the contrary we must have more people to help in the development of the country and in the solution of the productive problems with which it is confronted. Come in and work should be the watchword of the Department of Immigration.

Note and Comment

Esquimalt's member in the local Legislature is going North with Mr. Bowser to tell the people in that part of the Province about the Government's prune juice. We shall hope that he will not forget to tell them about his Colonel friend who bought the brandy that wouldn't burn.

Nobody would complain about the periodical holiday which the Sun declared and observed during the mid-day hours to-day. Our observations through several pieces of amateurishly smoked glass were quite a success and we have no hesitation in pronouncing the celestial celebration as astronomically perfect.

British Labor is facing a somewhat ironical situation. At the very moment when it constitutes the official Opposition to His Majesty's Government it is obliged to confess to the annual Trades Union Congress at Plymouth that union membership has dropped by as much as 2,000,000 in the last two years.

Mr. Tom Moore has very neatly labeled radicalism. He says it always seems to him like a bit of distemper in puppies; many catch it, but they either get over it or die as far as Labor is concerned. The annual gathering of British Labor in Plymouth last week was a test of Communism. The "reds" were hardly heard at all. They have apparently "got over it."

The Irish Free State's enthusiastic admission to the League of Nations is a happy and fitting climax to the success which the Government has just achieved at the polls. The influence which her delegates will be able to wield—both in a general sense and more especially because of her own processes of political evolution—at subsequent sessions of the League will be very considerable indeed.

WAR BEHEAVED SHED TEARS AS TRIBUTE IS PAID

Memorial Service Yesterday
Brings Memories of Fallen Dead to Relatives

Upwards of one thousand heads reverently bowed in silent tribute to the men who gave their lives in the Great War, and later comrades of the fallen men and veterans of other wars standing firmly at attention as Trumpeter Corporal Boulder of the 5th Regiment, sounded the impressive "Last Post," were features of the joint memorial service at Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon. The service brought back a flood of memories to many a bereaved mother and wife in the great audience with a tear of gratification that their loved ones should live in the memory of fellow citizens and the men with whom they faced death.

The service was arranged by Victoria war veterans on the occasion of the visit of the American Legion to pay a joint tribute to the United States and Canada's dead. Every available seat in the vicinity of the bandstand was occupied, and hundreds of persons stood throughout the brief but expressive ceremony. Hon. John Oliver, Premier, was among those who stood throughout the service.

The hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," opened the service, the 16th Canadian Scottish and the Salvation Army band supplying the accompaniment. Prayer by the Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., of the First Presbyterian Church, followed.

Bishop Schofield's Address

The address was given by the Right Rev. C. de V. Schofield. While others were talking of the need and power for good of the Anglo-Saxon race, the Bishop said the war veterans of Canada and the United States were working it out. When the men of the American Legion and the associated veterans of Victoria joined in that service they were forming a link of unity between the nations. They could not join in a service of remembrance to their comrades gone before, in earnest, without rounding out the value of their present day lives. So far returned men have felt self compelled to struggle overmuch for temporal justice. If he were speaking to-day to the general public of Canada he would say, "You have too soon forgotten the promises of the days of anxiety," but one day—the day—would come when the community would recognize the reasonable claims of the returned man. He looked forward to the day when this would not be the issue, and they could strive for something more. He also anticipated the day when comrades of the great war would take a just share in shaping their comrades' destinies.

Meaning of Service

In such a service to remember their comrades living in the life of the unseen they were challenging all men to exercise the highest capacity of their nature, said Bishop Schofield. They were challenging man's imagination and interest and bidding them remember that "they cannot be wholly satisfied with the things of this earth." They were called upon to think of those who by the way of sacrifice had won life's secret. They must realize that the spiritual and the material always intermingled.

The silent tribute to the dead followed the Bishop's address, after which "Eternal Father, Strong to Save" was sung.

In a brief ceremony at Ross Bay Cemetery commencing at 1:20 p.m. honor was paid to the graves of Canadians who lost their lives following war service. The ceremony, highly impressive by reason of its simplicity, was under the joint auspices of ex-service men, their guests from the American Legion and the women's auxiliaries of local organizations. The graves bore fresh flowers, as did the crosses of sacrifice and the tablet in memoriam to the naval forces, through the offices of the I.O.G.E.

APPRECIATES VALUE OF CITY'S BEAUTY

California Financier is Impressed by Vancouver Island's Attractions

Henry Stuart Foote, of San Rafael, California, a prominent financier and importer, has left a letter of appreciation of the city and island at the Curtis Point automobile camp. It is addressed to Frank Waring, chairman of the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce. The letter reads as follows:

"When leaving my British cousins I shall be remiss if I fail to thank them for their courtesies and the comforts which we enjoyed at the automobile camp. Allow me, therefore, to leave this note of appreciation with all sincerity."

Mr. Foote left this letter of appreciation totally unolicited, as many other tourists have done during the Summer. But the fact that he has travelled so extensively and in all parts of the world, and that he believes that Vancouver Island is the most beautiful country which he has seen, makes his opinion of this part of the world count for infinitely more than it otherwise would have done. His advice to the people of this city is to remain always courteous and generous, and the fact that they treat the tourists as friends and not as customers will tend to advertise the country and make it one of the great tourist resorts of the world more than any other sort of publicity.

Mr. Foote left this city this morning for the south. He has motored many thousand miles and Vancouver Island, he stated, is more splendid in scenic beauties than any other place he yet has visited. He was sorry that he was unable to spend more time here, and promises to return shortly.

NINETEENTH HOLE WAS TOO POPULAR

Visiting Golfers Display Enthusiasm on Unaddressed Postcards

Striking evidence of the potency of Victoria's "nineteenth hole" was given unwittingly by several visiting golfers last week. At the Provincial Fall Fair on Saturday the post office exhibit included a number of insufficiently or wrongly-addressed communications, shown to warn the public of the necessity for checking addresses before posting their letters. In the forefront of the collection were three postcards, duly filled in with addresses of the intended recipient.

By a curious coincidence all were from golfers. The first card read: "Dear D.—Leaving here to-day on the first lap of the journey homeward. This sure is some beautiful city, the best I have struck yet, with beautiful golf courses and even a 'nineteenth hole.'"

A second card in different handwriting and signed "Dad," also praised Victoria in the following terms: "Am in the city this town. It has in it most things to make one really contented with life, one thing in particular a fine 'nineteenth hole.' Similar tribute to Victoria's beauty and the efficacy of this popular 'hole' was paid on a third postcard, whose sender in the exuberance of his enthusiasm had also omitted to add an address."

In the meantime these enthusiastic tributes to Victoria and her assets remain at the local post office, destined to waste their messages of good cheer in the dim and murky fastnesses of the lost letter department.

The hospital nurse smoothed the sufferer's pillow. He had only been admitted that morning, and now he looked up at her pleadingly. "An' phwat did ye say the doctor's name was, nurse?" he asked. "Dr. Kilpatrick," was the reply. The sufferer winced and pulled a wry face.

"That settles it," he said. "That doctor won't get no chance to operate on me." "Why not?" asked the nurse, in surprise. "He's a very clever man." "That's as may be," replied the patient. "But my name happens to be Patrick."

NOBODY'S LOVER

By RUBY M. AYRES

He obstinately refused to speak of himself again, though he laughed and talked on other subjects cheerfully enough till Spicer took his leave. Rattray went with him to the top of the stairs.

"If I'd got an old boot to spare, I'd throw it after you for premature luck," he said laughing. "As it is, well, I dare say there'll be a white slipper or something to be had at the execution to-morrow, eh?"

But there was little enough of cheeriness in his face as he went back to his room and shut the door. He dropped wearily into the armchair, uttering dejection in face and figure.

Retrospection was not a failing of Jake Rattray's, but to-night he did some dreary looking-backward into the years that were gone.

The black sheep of a family who for generations had prided themselves on their impeccability, Jake had run away from home before he was out of his teens and wandered all over the world. The death of his father and the inheritance of a considerable fortune, which was beyond anyone's power to divert from him, had finally brought him back to England, and for three years he had lived in wild extravagance.

It was claimed for him that he had broken more hearts while his money lasted than any other man could boast of having done in a lifetime. "Everybody's Lover" they had called him amongst the Bohemians set where he was best known. But the money had vanished, as money will in the hands of a spendthrift, and the outbreak of war with Germany came opportunely as far as Jake Rattray was concerned.

He was one of the first to enlist, went through two years' heavy fighting and was invalided out with a bad chest-wound and shell-shock.

It was during convalescence down in Devonshire that he met Doris St. Clair. He was in a weak, depressed state when any woman with a pretty face was an angel, and he asked her to marry him.

He had prospects from an uncle, he told her, and honestly believed it. The uncle in question had apparently forgiven him for his past sins and wickedness because of his gallantry in the war, and had intended to leave him everything.

The old man was dead now, and Jake's share of "everything" had turned out to be a thousand pounds! "Doris St. Clair was pretty and worldly enough to be ambitious. A thousand pounds was no use to her, she told him. Certainly she told him quite prettily and with tears.

"Father said that everything costs a hundred per cent. more now than it did three years ago," she sobbed. "And we were poor enough then, goodness knows. I can't marry you dear—you must see I can't."

She would have liked an affecting parting, Jake cut it short by walking out of the house and slamming the door.

He was hard hit, and her refusal coming on top of the other heavy blows had almost bowled him over. He thought of her pretty face and blue eyes, and set his teeth hard as he sat there by the dying fire. At that moment, in his loneliness and weakness, he would have given his soul for the love of some woman such as the one whom his friend Doris had married to-morrow.

"He had spoken truly when he said that there was not a soul in the world who cared what became of him."

His life was a strange contrast to the months of excitement and ruthless extravagance through which he had lived before the war. The world had been at his feet then! Truly the mighty had fallen.

He thought inconsequently of the girl who had snubbed him in the restaurant that night, and his face flushed.

It was like her impudence! What right had she to set herself up in judgment upon him? Even supposing she had thought him the worse for drink, and even supposing that he had been, what affair was it of hers?

His veins tingled with a momentary desire to punish her for that ungrateful snub, and the next he forgot it with renewed, aching memory of the girl who had thrown him out.

If only she had stuck to him! And yet he knew he could not have married her now, after what the specialist had told him.

Lake Hill and Esquimalt Also Had Excellent Collections at Fall Fair

Practical demonstration of the ability and efficiency of the women's institute as a medium for encouraging the raising of household arts to a high standard was given at the Provincial Fall Fair which came to a close on Saturday. Some disappointment was occasioned that only three of the local institutes entered exhibits, particularly in view of the fact that the first prize was $100 and the second $50, making the effort well worth while; but any falling number was more than made up by the excellence of those shown.

Victoria, Esquimalt and Lake Hill Women's Institutes rose nobly to the occasion, entering splendid exhibits and thus keeping their work in the forefront of public attention. All three were of unusually high standard and wide variety, the margin between the winning and losing exhibits narrowing down to a very few points.

Victoria Women's Institute won the first prize with a comprehensive collection of products representing the work of the members. Delicious home cooking, including cakes, pies and breads, preserved fruits, vegetables, fish and meats, plain and fancy needlework, woven rugs, dainty paper flowers, knitting, candy making, and an extensive and commendable art section were included.

Even the novel decoration of the booth, consisting of hundreds of colored cut-outs of advertisements of various foods and fruits pasted on a cotton strip about four yards long, represented the patient handiwork of a member.

Lake Hill Second

The winner of the second prize of $50 was the Lake Hill Women's Institute. Their exhibit was a most attractive miniature fall show in a booth appropriately decorated with a lattice work of golden boughs and a background of greenery. Eminent practical was the exhibit of made-over suits, showing attractive garments made from old ones. This institute also prides itself on its handsome comforters made from local wool, teased, carded and quilted by the members.

Especially interesting was a dainty layette made by the institute for the Saniah Health Centre, every article being fashioned in such a manner as to admit of the whole layette being placed on the baby in one operation, each garment fastening at the back.

The Lake Hill women also showed a splendid assortment of canned fruits, fish and meats, home cooking, candy, rug weaving, rafia and woven hats, plain and fancy needlework.

Through an unfortunate misunderstanding the Esquimalt Women's Institute omitted canned fish and meat from its exhibit, thus losing points and the chance for the prize. In every other respect the exhibit was of the highest standard and presented a most attractive appearance with its decoration of mauve and purple wisteria, alternating with pale yellow and old gold blossoms.

Some particularly beautiful needlework, including handkerchiefs and broderie Anglaise, ribbon work and applique graced this collection, while the plainer varieties were in evidence. The household arts of home cooking and preserving in its various forms were well represented, and some excellent samples of art were shown. This fair marks the first occasion on which the Esquimalt Women's Institute has entered and the uniformly high standard of its exhibit promises the carrying off of honors at future shows of this kind.

It is to be hoped that next year more of the local institutes will see their way to enter exhibits, for while serving to keep the public au fait with their progress, the competition is also a wholesome influence in the growth of the institutes themselves.

Each guest was to bring something for which she could not find any use, and yet was too good to throw away.

The party would have been a great success but for the fact that eleven of the nineteen guests brought their husbands.

WHITE HOUSE.—Miss Laura Harlan, daughter of the late Associate Justice Harlan, will be retained as social secretary to Mrs. Coolidge. She acted in that capacity for Mrs. Harding, and has a wide acquaintance in Washington social circles.

UTAH'S PRIZE BABY

True Beauty

Is impossible to those who leave film on teeth

Prettier teeth form one great beauty item. And millions now enjoy them. Every day they are combating the dingy coats of film.

This offers you a ten-day test of the method they employ. It is used by dainty people of some 50 nations now. And you will always use it when you once see what it does.

That cloudy film

The clouds on teeth are due to film—that vicious film you feel. Much of it clings and stays on teeth under old-way brushing.

Soon that film discolors, then forms dingy coats which hide the luster of the teeth.

Film also causes most tooth troubles. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Hardly one in fifty, in the old days, escaped these film-caused troubles.

New-day methods

Dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to disintegrate the film at all stages of formation. The other removes it without harmful scouring. Those methods were proved effective by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Now that tooth paste is in world-wide use, largely by dental advice. Wherever you go you see the benefits it brings.

Natural ways

Pepsodent acts in natural, gentle ways. Its effects do not come from harsh grit.

Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. One is to neutralize mouth acids, the other to digest starch deposits. These great natural tooth-protecting agents gain manifold power from each use.

Pepsodent will bring you a new conception of what clean teeth mean. Send for this 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the cloudy coats disappear.

Do this for your own sake and your family's sake. Cut out the coupon now.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far gentler than harsh grit. It is a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mrs. Leggett, who holds the unique position of housekeeper at Trinity Hall, Cambridge University, detailed some of her experiences before the Kuntuku Club at its opening luncheon of the season to-day at Spencer's tea-room. Thirty-three members attended the luncheon, Miss Rowson presiding. It was announced that the next business meeting would be held on Monday evening, September 17.

Engaging the proprietor of the Fairfield Pharmacy, Gordon Agnew, in conversation while an accomplice was allegedly making use of a telephone in the rear of the premises, thieves made a getaway with a bottle containing 400 morphine tablets on Saturday. The man making use of the telephone, while he rummaged the desk nearby, is described as wearing a grey suit, straw hat and of the apparent age of twenty-five years. The suspected accomplice was of about the same age and well dressed.

In response to the wishes of an unusually large number of members from outside districts, an impromptu concert was staged by the Grand Army of United Veterans on Saturday evening in the club rooms, in honor of the visitors of the American Legion. An extensive and varied programme, including several selections by the club orchestra under the direction of Mr. Webb was presented. An enjoyable evening was brought to a close by the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," and "The National Anthem."

SEVERAL PROPERTIES TO BE SOLD FOR TAXES IN OAK BAY

Tax Sale Continues To-morrow
Mornings-Big Properties
Protected

Owing to the fact that there have been so many enquiries relative to the land in Oak Bay on the tax sale list, the office of the municipal clerk will, on the 10th of September, at 10 o'clock for the continuation of the tax sale. Up to the present time, there have been twelve lots sold in the Oak Bay municipality for taxes this year, and a total of $1,095.42 was obtained for the parcels. It is expected that many more lots will be taken by buyers at the sale to-morrow.

One of the best known and largest churches in the municipality, which was in arrears in taxes, was protected shortly before the tax sale. A $10,000 home was also protected just half an hour before the tax sale commenced. The tax list was reduced considerably by these and other actions of protection of the same description. One owner of a $7,000 home was not aware of the fact that the tax sale was proceeding, and when notified of the fact by telephone, he rushed to the scene of the sale immediately with the money and saved his house and property. His action was only just in time.

There are several properties to be sold still and these will be presented to-morrow.

FAMILY HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Fighting fire detected at 6:29 a.m. in the basement of his home at 413 Helmcken Street, owned by W. U. Rowlands of this city, a householder staved off the flames with a garden hose in one hand, while caring for a baby with his other arm. The fire was detected by an eleven-year-old son of the tenant of the room filled with what he thought was fire. He ran to his father's room and succeeded in rousing the household. Three children and the father occupied the house, and all were rescued in safety. Through the prompt action of the tenant, the fire, which had a serious hold on the basement, was held in check until the fire department got to work with chemicals and power streams to quell the blaze.

GRAIN CASE READY FOR COMMISSION

Oliver Again Draws Friday
Sessions to Commerce
Chamber's Attention

The Royal Grain Commission will hold sittings in Victoria, New Westminster and Prince Rupert, as well as at Vancouver, Premier Oliver again advised the Chamber of Commerce directors to-day. The sitting in Victoria will open September 14. In suggesting that the commission hold a sitting in Victoria, I made the chair of a committee room in the Parliament Buildings for holding the meeting of the commission, and R. T. Deschamps, secretary for the commission, advised that they will be glad to accept this offer," the Premier said.

Mr. Deschamps wrote that the question of the western route will predominate the meetings at the coast and remarked that doubtless the city of Victoria and the Chamber of Commerce are very much interested in this question.

The schedule of meeting to September 25 is as follows: Vancouver, September 10, 11 and 12; New Westminster, September 13; Victoria, September 14; Prince Rupert, September 15 and 16; Calgary, September 22, and Medicine Hat, September 24 and 25.

In the case for presentation to the commission has been prepared by R. T. Elliott, K.C., the president announced.

PLANS EXTENSION OF TOURIST TRADE NEXT SUMMER

Chamber of Commerce Lays Plan For Big Drive For Business

Important Factor in Securing Settlement and Capital

To obtain direct expressions of the views of business men of the Province on tourist business a petition is being circulated through the Chamber of Commerce.

"The merchants of this city have found such a decided benefit this year from the tourist business that they feel additional efforts should be put forth to secure and increase this business," says a covering letter from the Chamber of Commerce.

The petition which the boards are asked to sign and return if it meets with their approval, suggests the expansion of the Provincial Information Bureau:

(a) To receive information from various portions of the Province as to the offerings and requirements in each district.

(b) The distribution and publication of such material as they think advisable, and to act generally in an advisory capacity on advertising.

(c) To take such steps as may be advisable to make known the advantages of the different parts of the Province.

(d) To act in an advisory capacity in connection with steps to be taken to make known the possibilities of the different parts of the Province.

(e) To map out tourist routes and to act in this connection such information as to attractions, accommodations and conditions as will be of assistance to tourists.

(f) To secure the co-operation of the different parts of the province in a provincial line of tourist accommodation.

(g) To advertise in connection with the tourist business the industrial and other opportunities available in the Province.

ARCHBISHOP OPENS NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Catholics of City Now Have Higher Grade Boys' Institutions

The opening of the new Roman Catholic high school on the corner of Mason and Vancouver Streets, took place yesterday afternoon. Archbishop Casey, on a visit to the city, presided at the short and simple ceremony. After giving a few words of blessing and stating that he hoped for the best in the future of the school, Archbishop Casey said that it was a very worthy project, and one which deserved the wholehearted support of the church. The institution will be associated with St. Louis College.

Rev. R. Grangel, who will be the new Principal of the High School, spoke a few words of hopeful anticipation, saying that he would do his duty towards the children who would come under his tuition and supervision, and do all in his power, and work to the best of his ability for their welfare.

There are at present only two rooms in the new high school building, but the church has hopes that through the years the school may add to its buildings, dimensions and staff. At present, in high and graded schools here under the care of the church, there are over 120 students. Over these there are five teachers, including Mr. Grangel.

The dance at the Chamber of Commerce Hall, Saturday night, staged by the war veterans of Victoria on the occasion of the visit of the American Legion proved a great success and was thoroughly enjoyed both by the visitors and Victoria dancers. Heston's Orchestra supplied the music from 9 o'clock until midnight. Smoking concerts were also held at the different clubs for the visitors not attending the dance.

SOLAR CORONA

Actual photograph of sun's corona flaring from behind the bulk of the shadowing moon at the moment of total solar eclipse. The small white indentations at the edge of the moon are the so-called sun's protuberances, rays or gas which shoot out into the corona for thousands of miles at the rate of over 100 miles per second.

The manifestation was visible in its totality only in southwestern California and northern Mexico, making its partial appearance in Victoria between 11.15 and 1.45 o'clock, with the maximum at 12.30 o'clock.

Shadow cast by the moon when directly under the sun is approximately 100 miles in diameter.

The shadow traveled southeasterly, passing over all the islands off the southern California coast, with the island of San Clemente exactly on the central line of the shadow path.

Eclipses, such as this, occur on an average of one every twenty-two months, most of which are inaccessible due to the shadow path falling over the ocean or in the arctic and antarctic wastes.

More to-day, 100 scientific bodies representing most of the foremost universities and astronomical bodies of the world have been located at vantage points where the shadow will be visible in its totality on mountain peaks in the area to be totally eclipsed.

An early historical reference relates that when the two learned Chinese astronomers named Hi and Ho forgot to calculate an eclipse under the Emperor Tshun I Kang, the people were plunged into fear when darkness covered the earth and all time reckoning thrown into confusion. As penalty for their negligence the emperor had the astronomers' heads removed.

Peace was declared and a battle between the Medes and Persians halted, May 28, 585 B.C., when the sun was suddenly blotted out in the midst of the fighting, causing the ancients to believe that the gods disapproved of their struggle and bloodshed.

During the eighteenth century solar eclipses were looked upon with superstition, medical authorities even going to the precaution of sealing all wells to prevent them being contaminated by the poisonous mists which were believed to emanate from the eclipse shadows.

DR. PRICE REPORTS CITY VERY HEALTHY

Marriages and Births Take Sudden Rise, While Deaths
Decline

Dan Cupid has a busy month in August, reports Dr. A. G. Price, City Health Officer, to the Mayor and Council to-day. The statistics showed 14 per 1,000 of population, reckoning the city at 38,000 people. Death took toll of 9.9 per 1,000, while the city gained 30.2 per 1,000 of population in the most direct way.

City patients at the Jubilee Hospital, including fifty-eight patients with a total of 1,500 hospital days. Infectious diseases showed light returns with the absence of most usual Summer complaints. Eighty-nine children received attention at the Child Welfare clinic exclusive of visits made by the staff to homes in the city.

Bearing out an oft-repeated contention of Dr. Price Victoria showed in August an extremely low rate of infantile mortality, a low general death rate, and a high birth rate. For some reason not determined marriages were unusually numerous during the month. The figures in their relation to each other, did much to advance the position occupied by the city on health charts kept by Dr. Price to a point not usually attained by centres of similar population.

CITY'S CONTRACT SHOWED NO GATES

That no barriers are shown on the plans of the city's bridge contract was discovered to-day at the City Hall, when a specific examination of that point was made. The public works committee tabled tenders for bridge barriers at its last session to obtain legal advice as to whether the city was responsible solely for the work and its cost, in part, or not at all.

The action arose when it was learned that the railway company making use of one portion of the bridge declined to be made responsible for the cost of this work. While the substance of a report to the public works committee is withheld until that report is placed in the hands of the committee, it is known that the absence of barriers from the plan on which the city proceeded will have an important bearing on the case, and on any subsequent action taken by the city.

OPPOSE HOLIDAY CHANGE

Vancouver Retail Merchants' Bureau Thinks This Is Not Proper Time, Chamber of Commerce Told

Vancouver Retail Merchants' Bureau is not supporting any change in the weekly half-holiday at present. This was made known at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon in the reply to a query sent from here to the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The following resolution was unanimously endorsed by the Vancouver board council, the reply said: "That in the opinion of the Retail Merchants' Bureau, the time is not opportune for making any change in the present weekly half-holiday act."

SCIENTISTS SEEK TO PIERCE SUN SECRETS TO-DAY

New Wonder Instruments Are Operated as Eclipse Passes
Over California

Astronomers Hope to Determine Composition and Heat of Solar Gases

San Diego, Sept. 10.—When shortly after noon to-day the moon will lower the sun," as a solar eclipse was once fearfully interpreted, the mysteries of the sun's halo or corona will be probed by the most powerful astronomical instruments ever assembled for such an event.

Along the path of total shadow, sweeping across the Pacific, skirting the extreme southwestern edge of California and on through Mexico, a dozen famous observatories established field stations. The eclipse lasted slightly more than three minutes in any spot, and elaborate rehearsals and precautions had been made to make the most of the precious seconds.

It is during such brief intervals, often spaced years apart in civilized lands, that the astronomical world has a chance to make records of the sun's gaseous outer envelope, then clearly distinguishable from the main solar body which is screened by the moon. And it is from such records that valuable additions are being made to the scientific story of the universe and of human life on this little grain of gyrating dust.

Outer Envelope Mysterious

The exact nature of the sun's outer envelope has yet to be definitely determined, and the present eclipse will be utilized chiefly for that purpose, just as the one last year, observed in Australia, was studied chiefly as a test of the Einstein theory of curved stellar light. Extending some two and a half million miles from the sun's surface, more or less at different periods, is this gaseous substance, unlike anything on earth. It has heat and luminosity.

Several instruments never before trained upon the corona during an eclipse were to-day employed by the observatory field staff at San Diego, such as the interferometer and the radiometer, the latter so delicately sensitive to heat that it would react to a candlelight 8,000 miles distant.

It is unlikely that anything of an immediate popular interest will be determined, but the expected new data on the constituency, size, density, heat radiations, rate and direction of revolution of the sun's halo will eventually filter through the science sieve to the public ken.

While astronomers piled their instruments at San Diego, Catalina, San Senada and points in Mexico, chickens and animals went to sleep at midday in many places. Stars were visible in the path of artificial night.

Elaborate Preparations Made

The most complete set of instruments were welded at Point Loma and Lakeside, near San Diego. The Point Loma instruments, all mounted on one revolving table, include direct photograph telescopes, spectrographs, interferometer and radiometer. At the instant the moon's surface began to slide over the sun, a timekeeper began to toll off the seconds with each of a score of men taking his cue for the insertion and removal of plates and the necessary time exposures.

Observatories represented at points in the path of totality of the eclipse, the Dominion Astronomical of Victoria, B.C., Canada; Washburn from Wisconsin, Goodsell of Minnesota, Lack of California, McCormick of Virginia, the University of Paris, Sprague of Pennsylvania, Flagstaff and the University of Arizona, Potsdam of Germany and several Mexican institutions.

This same position eclipse will occur again September 21, 1941, and will then be total through the region of the Philippines and Siam, each occurrence moving westward by about eighteen hours. The last was seen in Egypt in 1905. Other positions have, however, occurred since then.

"The spectrum of the sun's corona will probably be the most interesting and fruitful result from the scientific standpoint," said Prof. A. H. Joy, secretary of the Mount Wilson Observatory and prominent astronomer. "We can get the wave lengths of the corona gas, then by the atomic theory can determine its composition. We already have some of the spectroscopic lines, but many are missing."

"We also expect to get spectroscopic records of the reversing layer or lower stratum of the sun's atmosphere. And the radiometer should give us the total heat radiations at different portions of the corona."

SUMMONS AGAINST "DR." CHARLES PRICE

Proceedings Taken Under Alberta Medical Act

Calgary, Sept. 10.—A summons against Charles S. Price, evangelistic healer, who is now holding meetings in Calgary, to appear in police court on Wednesday morning to answer a charge under the Medical Profession Act for practicing without being registered, was signed by Magistrate Mrs. Alice J. Jamieson to-day morning and was due to be served in the afternoon. The information leading to the issue of the summons was sworn out by Mr. J. J. McAlley, 621 Thirtieth Avenue West. Mr. McAlley was recently fined on a similar charge.

J. O. Campbell, acting for the complainant, stated to The Herald on Monday morning that his client was taking this action, not out of enmity to Mr. Price, but merely to demonstrate that if the Medical Profession Act was enforced he could not practice. "The act states," said Mr. Campbell, "that any person who states a willingness to treat any human being for any ill, I will prosecute this case and prosecute it to the limit. I do not think that Mr. Price has any more right to practice than has my client."

STEINWAY

THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

Steinway Ownership Is the Musician's Ultimate Aim

ANYONE who has the inherent ability to play the piano surpassingly well needs but the inspiration of the Steinway Piano to reach that higher plane of musical proficiency to which every true musician aspires.

Strange as it may seem, hundreds of musically cultured people never permit themselves the luxury of this higher musical education simply because they imagine that the Steinway is beyond their means. Such is not the case. The Steinway is unquestionably the world's finest piano, else it would not be the chosen instrument of Paderewski and all of the greatest musical celebrities in the world to-day, but its price is but little more than that of an ordinary good piano. Visit our showrooms and this fact will soon be apparent.

The Steinway & Sons pianos now in our showrooms comprise every model from the grand down to the apartment or baby grand. Cases are of ebony or mahogany.

Chamber of Commerce to Consider Laudible Plan at Wednesday
Luncheon

Discussion on J. H. Landahl's coast range steel project will take place at a luncheon meeting Wednesday at 12.30 o'clock. President C. T. Cross, of the Chamber of Commerce, announced at the directors' meeting to-day.

He asked for a good attendance, as the committee's report on the scheme presented at the Associated Boards of Trades of Vancouver Island at Nanaimo would be discussed.

The Victoria Chamber it was explained, was unprepared to accept the scheme as presented on that occasion, and the iron and steel committee have since gone into the matter at great length, and prepared their findings. A number of up-land representatives will attend the meeting, Mr. Cross said.

EMPIRE FORESTERS ISSUE WARNING ON B.C. TIMBER AREAS

Yellow Pine of Province Will be Exhausted in 20 Years, They Report

"High Lead" Logging Opera- tions on Island Destroy Second Growth

Methods of logging being used in the big forests on this coast are detrimental to natural regeneration, according to the report on conditions issued by the Empire Foresters' Conference under Lord Lovat to-day after inspection of island operations. "The coastal forests consisting of Douglas fir, cedar and hemlock, are being chiefly exploited under the 'high lead' type of logging which results in the practically complete destruction of small trees and leaves on the ground an enormous amount of debris, which we regard as detrimental to the re-establishment of the forest by natural processes," the report says.

"This debris remains for many years and constitutes a dangerous fire risk in the application of any method of regeneration."

Fire Destroy Tree Seeds

"It appears quite evident, however, that so long as repeated fires are probable, entire dependence cannot be placed upon seed stored in the soil and therefore the logging methods should make provision for other methods of regeneration such as leaving individual seed trees or logging in compartments small enough to permit seeding from adjacent stands. We have seen many illustrations of magnificent regeneration of Douglas fir on burned, logged-over areas where seed trees were left."

"We have seen enough of conditions after logging of the ravages by fire and insect to convince us that without a definite objective towards continuous forest production one of the largest Canadian industries will inevitably fall into decay."

"Therefore, our appeal is for decisive action on the part of the state in making expenditure for the perpetuation of the wood-using industries. We believe that the ultimate results of an investment in such an objective would lie to the great advantage of the state in the increase of forest revenues, in permanency of effort and in stability of social and political conditions in the forest regions of the country."

Yellow Pine Going

The report also deals with the interior timber areas of the province. "The yellow pine of the interior region is the only tree of commercial importance in the dry belt, where the rainfall is limited to ten or fifteen inches a year," it says. "The forest of this type is being rapidly exploited and at the present rate of cutting it is estimated that the supply will be exhausted within twenty years. And this period is being materially shortened by the ravages of the bark beetle."

Spruce-Balsam Treatment

"The spruce-balsam forests of the middle and upper slopes of the Rocky Mountain region and of the northern interior of British Columbia, although of different species composition, are practically the same in silvicultural requirements, as the spruce-balsam forests for Eastern Canada, and apparently the same treatment will hold good for this type."

Regina Resident Praises Tanlac For Her Recovery

"Tanlac soon had me eating with a relish and my food gave me the proper nourishment," said Mrs. T. J. Inch, 757, Pasqua Street, Regina, Sask., recently.

"I had a serious operation which left me with such a poor appetite I could scarcely eat anything, and even the little I did eat seemed to give me no nourishment. My sleep wasn't at all restful and I couldn't gain back enough strength to do my housework."

"I've gained nearly ten pounds by taking Tanlac and am so well and strong I can do my housework with ease. Tanlac also helped my little three-year-old girl, and I've often thought of writing the company about my experience."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold."

system of logging employed is such that practically no regeneration follows. A certain portion of the area from which the forest is thus removed, especially in Northern Ontario and Quebec, will eventually be used for farming purposes, and, therefore, the method of cutting is justified, but much of the area, however, is unfit for agricultural production.

"The softwood forests of the north constitute a priceless heritage in the midst of a region that will undoubtedly become the centre of a large agricultural and non-agricultural population. The distribution of the agricultural and forest crops should go hand in hand. We believe that the Empire of the North can reach its full destiny only by such purposeful direction of its natural resources and in such we include the treatment of the forest in such a manner as to ensure continuous production, and we see no outstanding difficulties in achieving such an objective."

AT THE THEATRES

JACKIE COOGAN PLAYS IN "DADDY"

Royal Stars Boy Actor in New Light

With his appearance in "Daddy," little Jackie Coogan about completes the cycle of human emotions, for in this newest picture play, written for their boy by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coogan, the youthful genius is called upon, in one scene, to sound the deepest of tragic notes. It was the performance of this role and scene that "hooked" from Will H. Hays his tribute of tears and the remark that "the world needs more pictures like this."

While "Daddy" sounds depths of tragedy and pathos, it is mainly devoted to the surface of smiles and laughter. Jackie, after every discouragement, plods on, and after every misfortune finds comfort; in the end he achieves complete happiness if complete happiness is ever found.

Nobody better than Jackie's parents could write a story for him, calculated to explore every angle of the boy's versatile genius. In "Daddy's Bad Boy" the impishness of the lad was specially revealed; in "Trouble" the note of pathos was injected with the merriment that is Jackie's birthright; in "My Boy" humor abounded, and in "Oliver Twist" the courage, tenderness and nobility of an upright youth were revealed. In "Daddy," the capacity of Jackie Coogan as a tragic emotionalist is so superbly disclosed that his work in this picture will forever stamp him as one of the greatest actors of all time, regardless of age.

"Daddy" is a First National picture and will start a six days' run at the Royal to-day.

MUSIC LOVERS' NIGHT AT ROYAL

To-night at the Royal in addition to the large orchestra that has been engaged for Music Lovers' Night, an extra attraction will be provided in Miss Kathleen Davies, who will render the following two songs:

ROYAL TO INTRODUCE "DISCOVERY NIGHT"

You will ask yourself the question: "What is Discovery Night?" The answer to that is this: The management of the Royal Victoria Theatre have repeated requests from young Victorian singers, instrumentalists and dancers who are taking lessons from local teachers, for an opportunity to sing, dance or play on the stage, in most cases for the following reasons:

FIRST—To get stage experience.
SECOND—To make a little money to help pay for the continuance of their music or dancing lessons.
THIRD—To get proper stage deportment.

Now the management of the Royal are willing to do as follows under the following conditions:

FIRST—Every Thursday night will be "Discovery Night," at which three artists will be allowed to occupy the stage.

SECOND—Out of the three artists one will be selected and will be given a week's engagement if acceptable and satisfactory arrangements can be made at the Royal the following week.

THIRD—All names must be in the box office not later than Saturday.

NOTE—The management feel that there is a lot of good local talent in this city to be discovered, and take this opportunity to give them the chance they are seeking to appear before the public of Victoria who, we feel sure, will give them the encouragement they are seeking.

Don't Forget Every Thursday Night at the Royal Will Be "Discovery Night" Commencing This Week

"Lover Sends a Little Gift of Roses," and "Sunrise and You." Miss Davies is the first artist to appear under the banner of a new "discovery." It will be her first appearance on any theatre stage, and the management have no doubt in their minds that the public will be more than pleased with this local artist. In addition to the singer, some of the numbers to be rendered by the orchestra during the evening are as follows:
Overture—"Princess Jaune."
March—"Saint Saens."
Children's Songs—Quilter.
March—"Schertzingler."

POLA NEGRI IS DOMINION STAR

Famous Actress Will be Presented in Notable Screen Offering

George Fitzmaurice's Paramount production, "The Cheat," presenting the famous star, Pola Negri, will be the feature attraction of the Dominion Theatre for six days, beginning to-day. The private view Friday assured a first-class picture. Jack Holt, Paramount star, is featured as leading man. Charles de Roche, the popular French screen star, now a member of the Paramount Stock Company, heads the supporting cast. This celebrated star has appeared, that has a happy ending.

Jack Holt Featured
The production is by George Fitzmaurice and Ouida Bergere. Jack Holt plays the featured role of a husband in the picture. Charles de Roche, celebrated French actor, is in the support as a white man crook posing as an East Indian prince.

Two of the greatest dramatic situations ever employed on the screen are presented in the picture—that when Pola Negri as the wife is branded by the spurious prince to indicate that she is his property; and the courtroom scene, where, in order to save her husband from prison for the soothing of the Hindu prince, which she herself did, the star bares her shoulder and displays the scar—the brand of the Hindu immediately a riot ensues and the verdict is set aside.

Beautiful Gowns Worn
The beauty of gowns is exemplified in a marked degree. The episodes, where Miss Negri selects her trousseau, afford opportunity for a pageant of fashion. Her own gowns designed by Howard Greer, are nothing short of exquisite—during unconventional and of the most superb materials.

But it is in the acting of her difficult role that Pola Negri proves the possession of that fire, nerve, power and magnetism, which have made her name a household word everywhere. To see her in the courtroom scene, where she makes her confession, involving shame, guilt and despair, is to see a form of dramatic expression that takes part of its greatness from the European school and is tempered sufficiently

HUSBAND GAMBLES; WIFE SAVES HIM

Story of "The Silent Partner" Now Filmed at Capitol

Some wives dig into a man's pocket for money, others make him dig. If you want to cure your husband of gambling in stocks, and at the same time keep his money in the family, how would you do it?

Leatrice Joy, as the wife of a stock gambler, shows one way in the intensely interesting Paramount domestic drama of New York life, "The Silent Partner," which will be the big feature at the Capitol Theatre, commencing to-day.

In this Charles Maigne production, Owen Moore takes the part of a small-salaried clerk in a stock broker's office. When he suddenly gets the speculation fever, success turns his head. He resigns his strictly position and moves from a modest kitchenette flat to exclusive Park Avenue apartments.

How woman's wit prepares for the crash that comes—how she stands by her husband even though he neglects her in the excitement of piling up new money—these are the things revealed in the film version of this famous Saturday Evening Post serial of Maximilian Foster's, adapted by Sada Cowan.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW IS BIG ATTRACTION

Pantages Has Six-Act Entertainment This Week, Which Promises Amusement

The Pantages theatre has an attractive bill to offer to its patrons in this city for this week, and with the return of the standard time, the authorities expect that the theatre will benefit, and the public indirectly, in every way. Manager Bob Jamieson announces that he will have the full six act Pantages road show on the boards here this week, and many of the acts, in fact, all of them, offer novel entertainment which has rarely been equalled here, and never surpassed.

The chief attraction on the programme this week is the George Carson Revue, in which seven instrumentalists, dancers and singers, present "A Gypsy Idyll," a most striking and artistic act. The dark-skinned comedian, Grant Gardner, well known on two continents as a laugh-creator, also appears, and his act is reported to be the most mirth-proving item at present on the Pantages circuit.

In the act "They Auto Know Better" with Harry Sullivan and Ruth Meyers taking the leading roles, together with a strange contraption known as a motor, which is a constant and surprising fount of mechanical amusement, the public will find unlimited springs of humor.

Irving and Elwood present a "Bouquet of Songs," one of the prettiest of musical presentations which the Pantages has had for the public in some months. Both singers have uncommonly fine voices, the quality and beauty of which are seldom equalled on the vaudeville stage. The Four Queens of Syncopation do not belie their titles. They have the gift and ability of being able to show to advantage their many beautiful costumes. They also have some vocal selections which are most attractive.

Noel Lester and his company are fresh from the Old Country, and have an act which appears to be filled with the tricks of witchcraft and black magic. The screen presentation is a Century Comedy, "A Monthly Romance." Tony Jensen will lead the orchestra.

PLAYHOUSE TO REOPEN WEDNESDAY

"A Message From Mars" Will be Presented

Followers of the drama will be more than pleased to learn that Mr. Francis Compton and his clever company are to re-open at the Playhouse on Wednesday evening next in that evergreen favorite, "A Message from Mars." The Compton Comedy Company is to run through the entire Winter season at the Playhouse, presenting plays of the same high standard as were produced by Mr. Compton during his previous fourteen weeks' tenancy of the theatre this summer. The Playhouse is to be under entirely new management, and a number of improvements are under consideration to add to the comfort of patrons of the theatre. Not the least of these is the engagement of a first-class, three-piece orchestra, which, by rendering solo and concerted numbers during the intervals, will eliminate the tedium of long and uninteresting waits. Mr. Chas. Spencer is to assume the post of business manager for Mr. Compton and his unfailing tact and geniality will be certain to be greatly appreciated. Mr. Compton will continue to play most of the leading male roles, while Mrs. Compton (Miss Peggy Dundas) will again be seen as leading lady, in which position she has gained a host of friends and supporters, as much for her clever acting, as for her charming personality and graceful beauty. Those sterling performers and favorite exponents of character parts, Miss Agnes Burton and Mr. Herbert Leslie are sure to receive a cordial welcome on their reappearance, while Messrs. George Durham, Clifford Winterston, Bruce Bredin and Stanley Davies have all done such excellent work with the company that their return is certain to meet with approval. Miss Belle Eilers, who gave an excellent account of herself last season, with Miss Marie Bancroft and Miss Winifred McGuire, who newcomers, complete the list of ladies. Mr. George Durham will again act as stage manager, while that tried favorite, Mr. Will

Marshall, will continue to delight his numerous admirers.

"A Message From Mars" is too well known to play to need any introduction. It has always been a prime favorite, and is an excellent selection for the Compton Comedy Company to commence what is hoped on all hands will prove a very successful and lengthy season. Elsewhere in this issue will be found an interview with Mr. Compton, who gives his plans for the future policy of the Playhouse.

UNIQUE ACT TO GIVE CHANCE TO CLEVER AMATEURS

The management of the Royal Victoria Theatre wishes to announce to their patrons that beginning Thursday night they will introduce to them what might be termed "Discovery Night." What is "Discovery Night?" The answer is this. The Management have had repeated requests from the young Victorian singers, instrumentalists and dancers who are taking lessons from local teachers for an opportunity to sing, play or dance on the stage, in most cases for the following reason: to make a little money to help pay for the continuance of their studies. Every Thursday night will be open for a try-out of this talent. In addition to the usual picture programme, three artists will be allowed to appear on the stage, and out of these one will be selected who will be given an engagement at the Royal for the following week, for which they will receive a salary. The management feel sure that there is a lot of good local talent to be discovered, and take this opportunity to appear before the public of Victoria, who, we feel sure, will give them the encouragement they are seeking.

Y.M.C.A. PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

Programme of Renovation and Repair Now in Hands of Workmen

There is every indication of a big year for the local Y.M.C.A., officials believe, and the plans for the coming season are already being prepared and acted upon by the groups and committees of the association. The religious work committee and the young men's division are particularly active at present, and are making extensive and elaborate plans for their activities during the winter.

The building itself is under a coat of new paint and kalsomine, for the authorities have decided to renovate the place to a great extent, making it more attractive in every way. Already workmen are plastering and varnishing, building and repairing, and making the headquarters of the "Y" here look like a new building.

The gymnasium equipment is being carefully inspected and put in the best condition. New ropes are being swung in the place of the old ones, horses are being recovered and put in better condition, bars, rings and all other appurtenances of a modern gymnasium, are being replaced or repaired, accordingly as their condition demands. Altogether the big "clean-up" will put the building in splendid condition, and make it one that its members may well be proud of this year and in time to come.

Although the season is still young, the ranks of the members for the new year are swelling perceptibly. The officials expect many new faces on the gymnasium floor and in the pool. The big tank, too, will, it is expected, have a busy season.

Prospective Tenant: "I like the rooms, but the view from the front is rather monotonous." Caretaker: "Well, of course, mum, this is a flat, not one of them sight-seein' char-a-bancs."

NANAIMO NEWS

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Sept. 8.—James Russell, an employee of the Dominion Government Dredge King Edward, operating in the Nanaimo harbor, was drowned at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the pipe line on which he was working, broke at the third joint from the dredge, precipitating Russell into the waters of the harbor. The pump was working at the time, giving the unfortunate man but little chance for his life, owing to the weight of water and sand. He was washed away about thirty feet from the break when he disappeared from view, never to rise again. As soon as Russell was thrown into the water, Fred Banks, a fellow employee on the dredge, jumped overboard, and was within ten feet of Russell when the latter disappeared from view. The dredge crew immediately set to work to recover the body, and succeeded after forty-five minutes in recovering it, but life was extinct. First-aid methods were resorted to by Captain Rogers and members of the crew, and Dr. Moore was soon on the scene, followed by Messrs. J. Stewart and Geo. Yarrow with a pump-motor from the Mine Rescue Station at No. 1 Mine. For fully an hour the doctor and his assistants worked on the unfortunate man, but without avail, for the spark of life had fled. He was exceptionally well known in this city and district. A native of England, aged 38 years, he came to Nanaimo with his family when a boy. He returned to the Old Country with his parents, coming back shortly before the war. He enlisted during the early days of the war and saw four years and eight months service. He was reported killed in action, but to the delight of his many friends this report proved to be incorrect. At the close of the war he returned to Nanaimo, and has since been employed in the various mines of the district, and left Lantzville Colliery on July 16 last to accept a position on the dredge, which he was filling up to the time of the accident which caused his death.

A meeting of the Upper Island branch of the B.C. Medical Association was held last evening at the Windsor Hotel. President Dr. Drysdale presided at the meeting. The small-pox situation in various parts of British Columbia was the main subject discussed. It was pointed out that the disease is breaking out in a mild form in various cities and towns of the Province. A general means for the prevention of the disease was discussed and mutually agreed upon, as it was realized that emphatic steps must be taken and adhered to in order to escape the spread. The Health Insurance Act was also discussed, and in the belief of the meeting, the Act itself, and pending legislation along these lines was a step highly to be commended.

Among those present from the outside points were Dr. Hicks, of Cumberland, Dr. Butters, of Courtenay, Dr. Emmerson, of South Wellington and Dr. Traynor, of Cassidy.

In the Provincial Police Court today a Vancouver resident was fined $10 and costs and rifle confiscated for carrying a gun in a motor car during the closed game season. Mr. Joseph Hines, a member of the Nanaimo City Football Team, was painfully, though not seriously, injured in No. 1 Mine today, when he had the misfortune of having his thighs injured while unloading a car of timber. It is expected, however, that the extent of the injuries are of such a nature that will confine him to his home for a few days.

the pulp and paper mills are being erected to utilize the forest products. Peter Heenan, Labor member of the Ontario Legislature, and Mayor George A. Toole, declared the whole populace was extremely pleased with the work. There has been no unemployment here for more than two years.

BERRY MEN WANT WINE TAX CUT

Saanich Growers Appeal to Chamber of Commerce For Aid

Aid in getting the reduction in excise tax from thirty cents per gallon to seven-and-a-half cents, already passed by the Federal House and now awaiting signature, was sought by the Growers' Wine Company of Victoria before the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon. The matter is of vital importance to the local company in its venture to put loganberry wine on the market through the British Columbia Liquor Control Board, members of the company said. Francis W. B. George, of the company, pointed out that the excise tax reduction was to offset certain concessions made to France in relation to wines exported to Canada. In view of the fact that the company had sold 5,000 gallons of wine manufactured here to the Liquor Board, it was anxious that the reduction should come into effect at once. He said the figures were based on the excise law of seven-and-a-half cents per gallon and then added 25¢ cents per gallon would make all the difference between a successful season and one that would spell loss.

KINGSTON ST. TENNIS TEAM BEATEN BY VICS

The Victoria Lawn Tennis Club defeated the Kingston Street Club in an inter club match played on the courts of the former on Saturday by a score of 18 matches to 4. The Victoria club team was easily superior to its opponents with the exception of the ladies' doubles, in which Kingston Street won two matches. One of the best matches in the men's singles was that between Knox, of the Victoria club, and Temple, of Kingston Street, won by the latter in three sets. A number of the matches went to three sets, but on the whole the Victoria club players were well ahead of their rivals on the day's play. The results were:

You Can Start Laughing Now and You Won't Stop for a Long Time

Jackie will keep the Royal Theatre in an uproar this week with his latest Picture. There's more fun in it than any picture you've seen him in—but that's just half the story! There's a tear or two in store for you—and a heart throb. With his fiddle and his pig—his bowl of spaghetti, the shower bath and his too-big trousers—yes, you'll laugh at him!—then there will be moments when you will be proud of the lump that comes up in your throat.

FIRE DESTROYS COWICHAN MILL

Yellow Fir Company's Plant and Lumber Cars Swept
by Flames

The Yellow Fir Lumber Company's sawmill, seven miles from Duncan, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday. Four cars standing on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway line near the mill and a quantity of lumber also were destroyed.

About forty-seven hands were employed at the mill, and those living at the mill suffered serious loss, only escaping with the few belongings they could gather up hurriedly.

The Yellow Fir Lumber Company is contemplating other operations as soon as it finishes its present cut about February, 1924.

Reports that a quantity of gasoline was stored in the mill buildings and that this aided the spread of the flames it is learned are incorrect. The only gasoline on the mill site was used in connection with logging operations and was stored 250 feet from the mill across the mill pond. When the fire started the gasoline drums were dumped into the pond as a precaution. Yesterday Government fire wardens were fortunate in having this gasoline to operate their pumps.

Inquiries to-day elicited the fact that the King-Farris Lumber Company, of Vancouver, reported to be the owners of the Yellow Fir Lumber Company, have no interest in the island concern.

PENITENTIARY REFORMS SECURE REGENERATION

Steady Progress of Development
Told by Superintendent

General W. St. P. Hughes on Official Visit

The penitentiary system of Canada has reached the stage when it is the model for other countries, and representatives from other nations are anxious to study the system at first hand, according to Major-General W. St. Pierre Hughes, Superintendent of penitentiaries, who arrived in the city on Saturday, and left last evening for Edmonton and Prince Albert.

General Hughes, who has just concluded an inspection of the British Columbia Penitentiary, told The Times that the institution was rapidly reaching the standard of the other penal institutions of the Dominion Government. Substantial building improvements have been carried out, and others are contemplated which will place the New Westminster building in line with model institutions like Prince Albert, which he regards as the most modern penal institution in North America, with the possible exception of one in New Jersey.

Two Notable Visitors

In support of his statement that other countries were glad to learn from the Canadian experience, he stated that the system of training boys of disreputable past used in the Old Country had been suggested from this Dominion. While Canada had taken the lead in the principle of segregating short term from long term prisoners, unfortunately the principle had not been developed here, and now most modern countries had since developed the principle of segregation to a greater extent. At the present time a representative of the British Home Office was en route to Canada to study penitentiary methods, and there was also an official coming to the Dominion from Cuba on a similar mission, he said.

Better Times in Jail

The inmate of a Canadian penitentiary, he is not now called a convict, has educational opportunities through which he can improve his position when released. By educating him in some useful calling, it is often possible to place the inmate in an occupation immediately on release, so that a strong argument for parole exists when it can be shown that immediate employment is awaiting him.

In thirty years' experience of penitentiary work General Hughes has seen great improvements. Instead of the cells averaging twenty-nine inches wide, as they were when he joined the service, there is now a Canadian penitentiary less than five feet wide. The furnishing and lighting of the cells had improved, and sanitary conditions were of the best. That last claim was substantiated, he declared, by the very small mortality in penitentiaries during the influenza epidemic, and by the remarkable freedom from zymotic diseases which had prevailed for a number of years now.

The development of trained men in the institutions, farming, workshops, and similar improvements had cut down the cost of operating the Dominion penitentiaries, as well as affording the inmates a great variety of occupation in their enforced detention. Greater attention was also given to food, and that helped to make the inmates more contented, he believed.

Relapses

"The percentage of men returned to the penitentiaries of Canada has fallen steadily in the last thirty years, until now it is under four per cent," said the General. "Of the men admitted at least sixty per cent have been committed to some provincial, penal institution or reformatory previously, and lapsing have later been sent to the penitentiary. That seems to indicate that the earlier punitive

General regulations under the "Destructive Insect and Pest Act" have just been revised and reissued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. One of the most important changes in the regulations is that section which requires the importer to secure a permit before importation of nursery stock can be made. The new regulations provide:

"Persons contemplating importing nursery stock shall file an application for a permit with the secretary of the Destructive Insect and Pest Act Advisory Board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. This application shall specify the quantity, kind and value of the nursery stock, the country and locality therein of origin, the destination of the stock, the name of the consignor and consignee.

"All shipments of nursery stock arriving at any port of entry, originating in countries maintaining an inspection service, shall be accompanied by a certificate of inspection. An original certificate shall accompany the invoice and copy certificates shall be attached to each container. These certificates shall be issued and signed by an authorized official of the country of origin, and shall state that the nursery stock, covered by the certificate, has been duly examined by the official and has been found apparently free from any pest or disease."

Jefferson had something the matter with his eyes, and he told such a long tale of woe about them that his friend became, really alarmed.

"I say, old chap," he exclaimed, "you ought to see an optician."
